CITY IN LINE FOR CAA FUNDS FOR PORT JOB

Half of Cost of Building May Be Paid by U. S. Government,

The Civil Aeronautics authority may provide funds for as much as 50 per cent of the cost of a new administration building at the Mansfield airport, city officials had learned today.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, Service-Safety Director W. W. Enlow, and Solicitor Leslie K. Wagner went to Columbus yesterday to inquire about the chances of getting federal aid for the project.

"We were told that the CAA budget for Ohio would be completed in a week to 10 days and the city must file an application for funds," Mayor Vaughn said.

Mansfield is being included in the surveying budget of Ohio airport to receive federal aid if it is desired, the city officials learned.

The funds can't be used for maintainance or hangars. They can only be used for the construction of an administration building, the mayor said.

* * *

50 Per Cent Maximum.

The amount of federal aid will depend on several factors relative to the type of airport for which the building project is being planned. The maximum amount obtainable is 50 per cent for any type of field, Vaughn said.

On Class 4 and 5 airports, plans for the project will have to be approved in Washington before federal aid will be forthcoming, the officials were informed.

Mayor Vaughn said it begins to look as if the city has a Class 4 airport rather than a Class 5 port.

A CAA official told the officials yesterday that it was probable that the port didn't quite measure up to Class 5 qualifications.

No construction plans have been drawn for the new administration building.

DREAMBOAT'S ON WAY OVER POLE

Big Plane Leaves Honolulu on Flight to Cairo.

HONOLULU—(AP)—The army's B-29 Pacusan Dreamboat took off this morning on its projected 10,300-mile flight from Honolulu to Cairo over the top of the world.

The huge plane got into the air at 5:51 a. m. (11:21 a. m.) EST.

To carry the greatest possible amount of gasoline, the ship was overloaded 27,000 pounds at the takeoff.

Of its total weight of 147,000 pounds, approximately half 77,352 pounds was gasoline.

The heavy plane sped down the army air forces' 7,000-foot Hickam field runway and onto the navy's adjoining John Rodgers field's equally long strip before it was airborne.

(The Associated Press listening post in San Francisco heard the Dreamboat report by radio at 8:33 a. m.—11:33 a. m., EST—that it was "proceeding normally at 1,400 feet altitude.)"

Col. Beverly Warren, Omaha, co-pilot and an expert at getting heavily-loaded planes into the air, was at the controls as the B-29 headed toward Dutch Harbor in the Aleutians, the first check point.

There is no expectation that the Dreamboat will set a world nonstop flight record, as Col. C. S. Irvine, the flight commander, had hoped, until the navy's truculent Turtle frew from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio, early this week.

TOLL HIGH

Strikers Stage Bloody Riot in Southern Korea.

SEOUL—(INS)—Martial law prevailed today in Taegu, 135 miles southeast of Seoul, where at least 38 Korean policemen and an undetermined number of other persons have been killed in bloody rioting growing out of southern Korea's crticial strike situation.

American army authorities said the police death toll may reach 50. They were unable to check casualties among the rioters who carried off their own dead and wounded.

FARM EXPERT DIES

WOOSTER —(INS)— Dr. C. G. Williams, 83, director emeritus of the Ohio experiment station and one of Ohio's best-known agricultural authorities, died today in his home at Wooster. Dr. Williams had been in failing health for several months.

Bishops to Aid St. Peter's Centennial

BISHOP MICHAEL J. READY

The Most Rev. Michael J. Ready, bishop of Columbus and a former Mansfielder, and the Most Rev. Karl J. Alter, bishop of Toledo, will take part in the centennial celebration of St. Peter's Catholic church, Nov. 1, 2 and 3, Msgr. R. C. Goebel, pastor of St. Peter's announced today.

Bishop Alter, who has jurisdiction over the local parish will celebrate the Centennial Pontificial high mass, Nov. 3 at 11 a. m., and Bishop Ready will preach the centennial sermon.

As a preparation for the celebration, a two-week mission will be held, starting Sunday, Msgr. Goebel said.

The three-day program will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding of St. Peter's Parish. Actually the 100th anniversary fell in 1944. But Msgr. Goebel pointed out that the war and the absence of hundreds of young men and women overseas, made it desirable to postpone the celebration until the war was won.

"The extra two years also gave the parish an opportunity to decorate the church," the pastor added.

According to Msgr. Goebel, a full schedule of activities has been arranged for the three days, including the consecration of the altars; a solemn requiem mass for all deceased priests, nuns and laity of the parish; the centennial pontificial high Mass, and confirmation.

The program will get underway at 7:30 p. m. October 31, when Msgr. Goebel will bless the articles that will be used the next day when the altars are consecrated.

At 10:30 a. m., November 1, the consecration of the altars will take place with Bishop Alter consecrating the main altar.

A solemn requiem mass for the deceased priests, nuns and members of St. Peter's parish is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 2 at 8:15 a. m., with Msgr. Goebel officiating.

The centennial will come to a solemn close Sunday evening when Bishop Alter administers the sacrament of confirmation to a large class of adults and children.

The mission which opens this Sunday will be in charge of the Vincencentian Fathers, Rev. Donald G. Knox, Rev. John J. Conway and Rev. Owen J. McConville. The first week will be for women and will run until next Sunday, October 13. The men's mission starts that day and will continue until the following Sunday with daily masses and evening devotions at 7:30.

HUFFMAN LAUDS DEM RULE IN KEYNOTE TALK

Senator Opens One-Day Ohio Convention With Praise For Administration.

COLUMBUS—(INS)—U. S. Senator James W. Huffman, Democratic candidate for re-election, leaped today to the defense of the national administration in his keynote speech before the state Democratic convention.

Huffman declared in an address before the 600-odd delegates gathered in Columbus that "it is most remarkable that only one year from the end of the shooting war this country is not beset by more serious difficulties than those which face it."

The former state commerce secretary in the Lausche administration pointed to an estimated national income of 170 billion dollars for 1946 and to the 58,500,000 reportedly employed as proof that the Democratic administration has not failed in its reconversion tasks.

He asserted:

"The Republican leaders complain of scarcity and lack of production but unassailable figures show that production is now two times as great as the nation ever boasted under any Republican administration."

Huffman attacked his opponent, former Gov. John W. Bricker, charging that the GOP candidate was running, not for the next term of the senate, but for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination.

The Democrats opened their one-day convention with claims that their platform would offer more inducements to veterans than did that of the Republicans.

END IN SIGHT

Officials Say Peace Parley Will Close By Oct. 15.

PARIS—(INS)—Conference officials predicted today that the Paris peace parley will wind up its business on schedule by Oct. 15.

The prediction followed a special meeting of the Big Four council of foreign ministers designed to limit debate in final plenary sessions in a move to speed deliberations.

The meeting of the Big Four in the French foreign office was described as "entirely agreeable," and there was prompt and unanimous consent among all four to rules which will prevent debate at a full conference of the 21 nations represented from getting out of hand.

Marines Repulse Chinese Attack

PEIPING—(U.P.)—U. S. Marine headquarters reported today that one marine was wounded and at least one Chinese killed last night when more than 200 unidentified Chinese attacked a marine ammunition supply depot between Tientsin and Chinwangtao.

One of the Chinese was wounded and marine headquarters said he was being questioned in an effort to determine whether the attackers were communists. The attack was repulsed after an 80-minute fight, according to the marine announcement.

28 DIE IN WRECK

LONDON —(INS)— Indian railway authorities reported today that 28 persons were killed and 70 injured in the derailment of a mail train en route from Madras to Calcutta. The British Reuter news agency, in a dispatch from Bezwada, Madras, said that the derailment occurred at Ongole, 75 miles from Bezwada.

OVER THE TOP—First industry to meet its fund goal was the Empire Steel corporation which today turned over a check for $5,000 to the Mansfield Community Fund, representing its part in the campaign which opens Oct. 14. Chase Southworth, seated, center, hands the company's check to Donald S. Ogden, who, with Howard Richards, second from left, serve as co-chairmen of the fund's industrial division. Southworth is president of the Empire Civic Fund association. Others shown are Owen Fighter, third from left, treasurer of the fund association, and Joseph B. Montgomery, at extreme right, president of the Empire corporation.

Pledge of $5,000 Gives Fund Drive Good Start

The Industrial division of the Community Fund campaign was off to a good—and leaders hope a prophetic—start today when the Empire Civic Fund Association made a $5,000 pledge representing 100 per cent of the quota assigned that organization.

At a meeting of the Civic Fund last night, Chase Southworth, president, presented the signed pledge to Donald G. Ogden and Howard R. Richards, co-chairmen of the Industrial division. This is the first gift turned in for the division.

The Empire Civic Fund, the oldest industrial fund of its kind in the city, was organized more than 20 years ago and from it all steel plant employes make their contributions to worthwhile charitable and civic projects. In some instances employes are granted loans for emergency needs.

Only Once Asked More.

Since its organization in May, 1926, all employes contribute three-tenths of one per cent of their pay and only once in those years has it been necessary to ask employes for additional funds. This was early in 1945 when demands for health, welfare and philanthropic work were unusually heavy.

Funds of the association are administered by a board of directors who are representative of all employes. Southworth, on the board for 16 years, served as president for 12 years. Owen Fighter has served as treasurer for 14 years.

Ogden and Richards said today that work on the industrial division will go into full swing next week as that unit of the campaign set-up requires about a week longer for complete coverage than any other division in the city.

Industry Seeks $63,000.

Industry, combining management and labor, raises two-thirds of the annual Community Fund budget for its 11 Red Feather agencies, according to W. E. Slabaugh, jr., campaign manager. Of the total goal of $94,000, 40 industrialist, their employes and corporations have been asked to raise $63,000.

This year there will be cardboard Red Feather indicators for factory bulletin boards showing the progress of the drive within the plant.

TREAT 2 FOR POLIO

CLEVELAND —(AP)— A two-year-old Sandusky, O., boy and a 15-year-old Cleveland girl were admitted to City hospital yesterday as infantile paralysis patients, bringing the number of cases here for the year to 256, of which 25 were fatal.

PARENTS AID SCHOOL LEVY

268 Join City-Wide Canvass to Get Out Vote.

Two hundred and sixty-eight parents from Mansfield school districts organized a city-wide canvass this week toward the three-mill levy for boosting teachers' salaries. The levy will come before voters in the November 5 election.

Hedges school district, with the second largest group of volunteer workers, turned in the first complete report today. It showed 220 completed registrations and 14 transfers, Dr. Edwin A. Fensch, director of research in the public schools, said.

Hedges has 60 volunteer workers. Western school district is first with 61 workers.

Dr. Fensch added that he had received a letter from the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce today, endorsing the levy.

Registrations from the workers will be accepted up until 9 p. m. Monday at the board of elections. Charles L. Freehafer is chairman of the registration committee.

CORN WINS

Bumper Crop Certain, State Grain Experts.

CHICAGO — (AP) — A bumper corn crop sufficient to provide 25 bushels for every man, woman and child in the United States was labeled "secure" today by grain experts.

Corn has won its race with frost, grain men asserted, and is now out of danger—assuring the country a firm base upon which to build its cereal, meat and dairy food production next year.

C. M. Galvin, statistician for James E. Bennett and Company, grain firm, predicted a record-breaking crop of 3,326,398,000 bushels on the basis of October 1 conditions reported by grain dealers, millers and other correspondents in the growing territory.

Truman Demands Immediate Opening Of Palestine to Jewish Immigrants

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— President Truman today called for immediate "substantial immigration" of Jews into Palestine. He said this government is ready to lend its prompt assistance to such a program.

The president communicated this view to British Prime Minister Clement Attlee by cable last night, White House Secretary Charles G. Ross said.

The president issued a statement outlining a three-point program to meet the problem of finding homes for European Jewish refugees.

The first point was the call for immediate start of immigration.

Mr. Truman said in the second point he was prepared to recommend to congress liberalization of this country's immigration laws to admit displaced persons.

And third, he said that should a workable solution for the Palestine problem be developed, he would be willing to recommend to congress a plan for economic assistance for Palestine's development.

Mr. Truman said he had learned "with deep regret" that the meetings of the Palestine conference in London have been adjourned and will not be resumed until Dec. 16.

"In view of the fact that winter will come on before the conference can be resumed," the president said, "I believe and urge that substantial immigration into Palestine cannot await a solution to the Palestine problem and that it should begin at once. Preparations for this movement have already been made by this government and it is ready to lend its immediate assistance."

NAZI LEADERS MAKE APPEAL FOR CLEMENCY

Move Fails to Bring Halt in Advance Preparations of Hangman.

NUERNBERG —(U.P.)— Appeals to the Allied Control council on behalf of Nazi war criminals were filed today, the last before the deadline, even as the hangman was reported getting ready for his big day on or before Oct. 16.

Hans Frank's lawyer said the former Nazi overlord of occupied Poland had forbidden him to ask for mercy. But Frank's wife and children asked him to appeal from the gallows sentence, the lawyer said, and he was doing so with the notation that it was against Frank's wish.

Alfred Rosenberg and Wilhelm Frick were the first applicants of the day. Through their attorneys they sought easement of their death sentences.

Meanwhile American military sources reported that the hangman who will dispatch the condemned Nazis had reached the Nuernberg prison. He was understood to have got here a day or two ago, going directly to the prison and persumably giving his attention to scaffolding and rope measurements.

The hangman, while his identity was concealed, was believed to be Master Sgt. John C. Woods, 41, San Antonio, Tex. He has been a mechanic of legal death for 16 years, during which he has hanged 313 persons.

Flower Sale Will Benefit Wounded Vets

The slogan, "Wear a Forget-Me-Not," will be carried out on the city's streets tomorrow as thousands of little blue flowers are placed on sale toward the relief and rehabilitation of wounded veterans.

Sponsored locally by the Mansfield Chapter No. 21, DAV, the annual fund drive also will benefit those dependents of veterans, wounded in war service.

Last year more than 3,000 of the flowers, made by wounded vets, were sold on the city streets, in offices and factories, solicited by 100 volunteer workers.

Greeks Unite to Attend Parley

LONDON —(INS)— Leaders of the five Greek parties in the Athens parliament were said today to have agreed to accompany their premier, Constantin Tsaldaris, to Paris for the wind-up of the peace conference.

According to the London Daily Telegraph, which quoted a dispatch from Athens, the decision was made as the Greek parliamentary parties moved to unite in common effort to obtain justice for Greece.

Weekend Likely To Be Dampish

Tomorrow's cloudiness will herald in a wet weekend, forecasts indicated today.

While Saturday will remain warm, temperatures for the succeeding four days will drop slightly as scattered showers arrive.

Mansfield's low temperature during the last 24 hours was 51 and the high was 76.

BUS KILLS CYCLIST

ASHTABULA — (AP) — Injuries received in the collision on his bicycle with a city bus were fatal yesterday to Carl A. Gustafson, 74.

Jam Board Office To Transfer

The Richland county board of elections office was a busy place today.

Scores of Mansfield and Madison township residents went to the office to register and transfer to be eligible to vote in the Nov. 5 election.

Registrations and transfers climbed to 175 yesterday and that number was expected to be topped today and again Monday.

Deadline for registrations and transfers is Monday night.

Both political parties, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the organization promoting the three-mill school levy for teacher salary increases in Mansfield are campaigning for more registrations.

SOME CONFUSED, BOARD CLERK SAYS

Harry E. Hawley, clerk of the election board, said today that there has been a misunderstanding among some of the campaign workers as to the procedure for registering and transferring.

"In an effor to induce many citizens to transfer their addresses, some of these organizations are circulating cards which state the change of residence and require only the sworn signatures of two witnesses," Hawley said.

"These cards are legal when applied only to transferring the prospective voter's residence. They do not register the voter if he is not already registered or has failed to vote at least once in the past two years.

"Such persons must appear in person at the board of elections and register," Hawley said.

The board is remaining open until 8 p. m. each night this week and plans to remain open until 9 p. m. Monday, the last day for registration and transfers.

LABOR TROUBLE IDLES 682,560

Pittsburgh, Maritime Strikes Force Employment Down.

(By United Press)

More than 682,560 persons were idle today as the result of labor disputes ranging from the nation-wide shipping walkout to a strike of school teachers at Wilkes Barre, Pa.

Both the teachers and the maritime strikers demanded higher pay. So did workers in most of the other strikes.

Of the 682,560 idle, only 112,650 were involved directly in walkouts. Most of the others were laid off as a result of the shipping strike and the Pittsburgh power tie-up.

The major developments:

1. The government, in an attempt to end the four-day maritime strike, called west coast shipowners to Washington to participate in negotiations. The west coast operators had been represented in the negotiations by their trade organization, the Pacific-American Ship Owners association.

2. The ranks of Pittsburgh power strikers were split by a "revolt" against the leadership of President George L. Mueller of the independent union of power workers.

3. At Hollywood, motion picture producers and strikers looked for the aid of negotiators to end the dispute which has resulted in picket line violence at several studios.

CLOSING LIKELY

Packing Plant Considers 3-Day Operation.

Three-day-a-week operation for the W. A. Kearns packing house, supplier of 50 per cent of the city's meat markets, became more likely today as the meat famine went into its fourth week.

R. D. Samsel, company bookkeeper, said it was probable the company would operate only Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, closing down the other three days.

"There's still nothing definite about the closing yet," Samsel said, "but there's not much sense of staying open when we can't supply our customers. We're only staying open now to hold our organization together and to keep our help."

Samsel added that "in normal times," Kearns supplied 50 per cent of local meat markets.

FLASH BLAST OF GAS FUMES STARTS BLAZE

Injury Toll Near 140-Mark; Explosions Rock Marcus Hook Area For Miles.

MARCUS HOOK, Pa.—(AP)—Seven persons were killed and upwards of 140 others injured by fire and thunderous explosions which roared through a unit of Sun Oil company's $13,000,000 aviation gasoline refinery several hours before subsiding early today.

Sun Vice President Arthur E. Pew, jr., estimated damage to the world's largest alkylation plant at $300,000. He said "a packing gland which failed, caused gas to escape and flash," touching off the series of explosions felt 20 miles away in Philadelphia.

Boiling up in huge clouds of smoke lit by darting tongues of flame, the fire swept unchecked for four hours after the first blast at 6:10 p. m. yesterday. It was then brought under control but was not extinguished until this morning.

Volunteer Firemen Hurt.

Many of the injured were volunteer firemen. The heaviest casualty toll occurred when flames, racing out of a pump room, reached a 125-foot fractionating tower. It went up with a roar, the shock rocking the countryside for miles.

Alex Petrovich of Boothwyne, a fire victim, said "it was horrible." "Men were screaming, their clothes afire."

Shortly after the initial blast shook this Delaware river industrial community of 4,000 all available fire fighting equipment was summoned from nearby cities.

Seen 30 Miles Away.

The fire was visible for a distance of 30 miles and residents of Wilmington, Del., 15 miles south of here, said the explosion shook homes in that section.

George Ruth, one of the workmen injured, said he was blown across a room by the initial blast.

Ambulances rushed the injured to Chester, Pa. and Wilmington, Del., where hospital facilities were taxed to handle the victims. Emergency cots were set up in the hallways and blood plasma was rushed from nearby blood banks to supplement hospital supplies.

KELLEY NAMED TO ANNAPOLIS

Mansfield Youth Appointed to Enter Naval Academy.

James Patrick Kelley, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kelley, 389 West Third street, today was named as principal nominee among five Mansfield youths for entrance to the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis, Md.

The appointments were made and announced by Congressman J. Harry McGregor of the 17th district. Appointments are for admission to the class entering the academy next July 1.

John W. Cook, jr., 470 Marion avenue and William Frederick McKee, 136 Dawson avenue, have been named as first alternates with Charles Myron Worthley, 117 West Second street, and Robert Farber Gandert, 94 Ausdale avenue, as second alternates.

The appointments were made on the basis of competitive U. S. civil service examinations held on July 24. Young Kelley is in Bainbridge, Pa., preparing for the entrance examination.

Officials Probe Airliner Crash

STEPHENVILLE, Nfld.—(U.P.)—Officials of the Newfoundland government and American Overseas Airlines began today the gruesome task of sifting the wreckage of a transatlantic airliner to determine if possible why it crashed into a hillside, killing 39 persons aboard.

It was the second disaster on the transatlantic run within 15 days and the worst accident in commercial aviation since the German dirigible Hindenburg exploded at Lakehurst, N. J., May 6, 1937, killing 36 persons.

MOLOTOV GOES HOME

PARIS —(U.P.)— Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov departed by air today for a quick round-trip visit to Moscow, increasing speculation on the possibility of a Big Three meeting soon to tackle basic east-west disputes.

Shelby's Commercial Construction Halted

SHELBY — New commercial construction came to a standstill in Shelby during September. No building permits were issued for that type of construction and only permits for four new homes, totalling $24,600, were issued last month, according to a report from Finance Director Chester P. Monn's office.

The permits for four new dwellings bring the total for the year to 78.

Government restrictions on building, for the most part, have brought an end to the expansion and development of new commercial construction here, building contractors asserted.

Many of the commercial projects already started will not be finished until next year, they said, blaming shortages of labor and materials.

Permits issued last month for the new homes are: William D. Metz, brick veneer, $7,500; Richard Payne, frame, $5,000; Eugene Keller, frame, $5,000, and Thomas D. May, frame, $7,100.

Other permits were issued to James Stewart, remodeling for dwelling, $1,000; Don Weidner, frame addition to garage, $125; M. T. Schreck, frame garage, $500; Don Kline, concrete block garage, $800; Zeke George, glazed brick front, $900; J. S. Allen, cement block garage, $400, and Laura L. Shaw, frame addition, $150.

WORLD DAY AT U. B. CHURCH

Homecoming to Be Celebrated By Tiro Congregation.

TIRO—The World day of communion at the Tiro United Brethren church Sunday will feature homecoming day in addition to special numbers for the Sunday school. A basket dinner at noon, and an afternoon program starting at 2:30 are also scheduled, the Rev. Kenneth Stover announced.

During the homecoming service the Rev. Mr. Stover will edicate an attractive religious picture which will be placed in the auditorium as a memorial to members who served in the armed forces during the war.

Children of the primary department will present the special numbers at the Sunday school hour under the direction of Mrs. L. O. Graham, superintendent, and the primary teachers.

The Rev. Clayton Strawser, pastor of Mt. Zion U. B. church, will speak at the afternoon program, and the morning service will be based on the observance of world wide communion service, the pastor said.

BOARD URGES LEVY PASSAGE

Galion Cost Per Pupil $30 Less Than State Average.

GALION—Pointing out that the one and a half mill levy to be presented to voters Nov. 5 will cost Galion taxpayers but $1.50 on each $1,000 of assessed property valuation, school board officials at their regular meeting last night, said the levy was badly needed for increased costs in general operation.

Galion is one of 68 Ohio cities that is submitting additional levies to voters this fall. Eleven other school districts in Crawford county are in this group, school authorities said.

The cost per pupil in Galion for current operating expenses last year was $30 less than the average for all cities in Ohio, M. A. Povenmire, school superintendent said.

In other actions last night, Leonard Huber was given a 90-day provisional appointment as janitor of the North Elementary school. He will replace Mrs. Gayle Hershner. Huber has had previous boiler operating experience, it was asserted.

Plans were made to put low water cut-outs on boilers at the North, South, and Junior High school buildings.

The board also granted a diploma to Richard Hillis, of Chicago, a former Galion student who has completed the general educational development tests successfully. He served in the Navy during the war.

Clerk Isabel Monroe submitted a financial report showing a balance of $16,350 in the general fund, $8,341, in the bond fund, and $650 in the cafeteria fund.

RALLY DAY SERVICES

LUCAS — John Kramer, of Mansfield, will be the speaker at Rally day and promotion services at the Mt. Zion Lutheran church, east of Lucas, on Sunday.

A Three Days' Cough is Your Danger Signal

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Mt. Gilead Man Hurt In Mishap

BUCYRUS—In the second accident within a month, Gilbert L. Wilson, 24, resident of Mt. Gilead who is employed at the New York Central railroad here, received injuries requiring treatment at City hospital Thursday morning.

Wilson sustained a lacerated right hand and facial bruises, when he lost control of his car at the East Mansfield - Whetstone street intersection, according to the police report. The car jumped the curb and traveled down the sidewalk for 75 feet and then shot across Whetstone street coming to a stop when it smashed into a steel gasoline pump island at the service station on the corner. The car was badly damaged.

In another accident Sept. 6, Wilson drove into a flock of sheep on the Galion-Bucyrus highway, killing four of the animals and injuring one. His car was damaged at that time. He escaped uninjured.

BEEF BREEDERS NOW ORGANIZED

Morrow County Organization to Aid 4-H, FFA Clubs.

MT. GILEAD—Adopting a policy to encourage beef breeding, and 4-H and FFA members to raise beef animals, and to sponsor a steer show and sale at the annual Morrow county fair, beef breeders of the county met at the county courthouse Wednesday to form the Morrow County Beef Breeders' association.

Tentative plans call for a concentrated drive to place Morrow county bred calves in the hands of 4-H and FFA members, with all adult members taking an active interest in the care and breeding.

Walter Hardesty, of Marengo, member of the county fair board, acted as chairman at the first meeting. Officers elected are: Donald Holland, president; Harold McClelland, vice president, and Donald Ruhl, secretary-treasurer.

A committee composed of McClelland, Kensel Beck, Warren Gordon, Frank Matlack, Lewis Lloyd and Kenneth Barber, was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws.

Guest speakers, discussing problems of beef production, will address future meetings, the first of which will be held at the courthouse Wednesday, Oct. 16.

Heads Training Course In Gym

ASHLAND—Miss Evelyn Levers, physical education instructor at Ashland college, will supervise the women's physical-conditioning program which opens October 16 at the Ashland YMCA. Swimming classes and gymnasium groups will be formed for women of the city and Ashland county.

The classes will continue each Wednesday night for the course with women's physical education students of the college assisting Miss Levers.

Miss Levers, a resident of Wooster, is a graduate of Ashland college in the class of 1945 and is working on her master's degree at Columbia university.

Damage Claims Go Up In Crawford

BUCYRUS — A sharp rise in claims filed by Crawford county farmers for sheep killed or injured by dogs during the third quarter of 1946 was noted this week as county commissioners allowed $500.30 in claims for 50 animals killed and eight injured. In the previous quarter only two claims were filed, the lowest in years.

Largest claims in the quarter just ended were filed by Charles Hoch, Jefferson township, and A. J. Hiller, Cranberry township. Hoch was paid $127 for the death of six ewes and nine lambs and two lambs injured, and Hiller was paid $121 for 10 ewes killed and three injured. In addition to the sheep claims commissioners also paid $31 in damages to J. E. Raiser, Polk township, for 21 chickens killed by dogs.

ARRIVES IN AFRICA

ASHLAND—Friends here have received word that Miss Nora Vesper, United Brethren church missionary to Africa, has arrived at Freetown, Sierre Leone, West Africa, to resume her duties after a furlough in Ashland. The missionary left New York Friday by plane.

DELEGATE

Bucyrus Man Will Represent District at Convention.

BUCYRUS — David L. Fahl, member of Good Hope Lutheran church, will represent this district as lay delegate to the Nineth Biennial convention of the American Lutheran church in Appleton, Wis. October 10-17.

Pastor delegate will be Rev. Victor Schieber of Fostoria.

A total of 159 lay delegates representing 620,000 members of the church in the United States and Canada will be present at the conference.

This district includes Lutheran congregations in Bucyrus, Galion, Crestline, Upper Sandusky, Sulphur Springs, New Washington, Cardington, Chatfield, Attica, Willard and Fostoria.

KETTERING AT FAIR

LOUDONVILLE — Charles F. Kettering, research vice president of General Motors Corp., returned to his home town yesterday to participate in the Loudonville street fair. Kettering presented $400 in premiums to winners of youth competitions open to residents of Ashland, Knox, Holmes, Richland and Wayne counties.

Grid Ducats to Go On Sale Monday

Football tickets for the Mansfield-Massillon game go on sale Monday afternoon at Tawses' Pharmacy, Yunckers, City-News and Fox Jewelry store. Brown's Drugstore will handle the tickets Tuesday.

George Sherman, ticket manager announced there will be only 800 tickets for this game. The price for this contest will be $1.25, with 300 seats in the north end bleachers and 500 on the track.

There are no tickets available at Senior high school, Sherman announced.

Cold Puts Damper on Hogan In Fort Worth Open Golf

FORT WORTH, Tex. —(AP)— The race for top favorite in Fort Worth's $10,000 open tournament was wide open today as the second round of play got underway with Ben Hogan.

Hogan's co-favorite, semi-retired Byron Nelson, turned in a one-under-par 70 over the 6,350-yard Glen Garden, course yesterday but was five strokes behind the leader, Ellsworth Vines, Los Angeles tennis great turned golfer, who carded a 33-32—65. Par is 37-34—71.

Robinson's Big Wheel In 'Little Series'

MONTREAL — (U.P.) — Unless the Louisville Colonels find a way to stop Jackie Robinson in "little world series," it appeared likely that Montreal would win its first series championship.

Robinson, leading hitter in the International league, hit a double, triple and single last night as Montreal edged the American Association champs, 5 to 3, to get a three-to-two lead in the best four-of-seven-games series. On Wednesday night his 10th-inning single won the game for Montreal and pulled the Royals even in games.

Feller Spikes Mexican Baseball Rumor

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Bob Feller, here last night to pitch the first three innings in a 3-0 victory of his American league all-stars over Satchel Paige's Negro league stars, termed "ridiculous" a report that he would vacation in Mexico this winter and play ball there "occasionally."

STRAN-STEEL "Quonset 20"
ALL-STEEL • CLEAR-SPAN INTERIOR • EASY TO ERECT

If you need a small building fast, that is low in cost and has the permanence of steel construction, you will find the "Quonset 20" perfect for almost any purpose.

Easily adapted to office, production, storage or other uses, it has a clear-span interior that permits any desired interior arrangement. Interior walls and insulation are easily accommodated, if needed.

Width is 20 feet; length as desired, in 12-foot extensions. Stran-Steel framing goes up fast. Joists and studs have a patented nailing groove; steel siding and covering are nailed directly to the steel framework, and gripped securely. All-steel construction is fire-safe, wind- and weather-safe, and proof against sagging, warping, rotting, and the destructive action of termites.

Let us give you complete information about prices, structural details and possible uses.

"Quonset" buildings are products of Great Lakes Steel Corporation, a unit of National Steel Corporation

DISCOURAGING

Economists' Predictions Sad Except to Vegetarians.

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Agriculture department economists said today meat supplies are unlikely to catch up with demand before 1948—and by then people may not be able to afford as many stakes and roasts as they would like.

That doubly discouraging forecast for meat-hungry Americans came as the price decontrol board suspended at least until next week a third decision on the future of ceiling prices for milk and other dairy products, now free of OPA jurisdiction.

The agriculture department's bureau of economics explained its prediction of a slackening meat demand some 12 to 15 months hence by saying that consumer incomes are expected to turn downward in late 1947 or early 1948.

Wallace Strikes Back at Baruch In Atom Bomb Feud

BIG PROBLEMS STILL REMAIN, HE DECLARES

Former Commerce Secretary Says World's in Frantic Atom Control Race.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The feud between Henry A. Wallace and Bernard M. Baruch raged unabated today with the former cabinet member accusing the U. S. representative of the United Nations atomic energy commission of blocking international consideration of atomic controls.

Wallace wrote the latest charter in the battle. He declared in a statement that Baruch is "increasing public confusion" on the critical issue of the atomic bomb and not the other way around as Baruch charged in his denunciation of Wallace.

The former commerce secretary charged that Baruch's "stubborn and inflexible position" has created an "impasse" in atomic control negotiations. He said that Baruch "is unable to distinguish the fundamental, critical issues from their purely procedural aspects."

Wallace said Baruch failed to deal with the central issue of the controversy, adding:

"Neither in his memorandum of Sept. 24 to the president nor in his personal blast at me do I find any indication that the U. S. representative has come to grips with the serious points of disagreement on which the work of the United Nations atomic energy commission has been deadlocked for some time, or with the fact that the nations of the world are even now engaged in a frantic atomic bomb race."

Wallace maintained that Baruch had attempted to "intimidate" him into issuing a public statement supporting the Baruch position on atomic energy controls.

The former secretary said the negotiations are in a "critical phase." and charged:

"The danger of failure in these negotiations lies in his (Baruch's) statement that 'the United States delegation cannot consider modifications in those fundamental principles of its plan which, in our judgment, must be maintained to meet the mandate given the commission by the United Nations general assembly last January."

Wallace said the present impasse in atomic negotiations results from two basic points of disagreement: 1. The question of whether the U. S. should continue its production and stockpiling of atomic bombs during the negotiation of the treaty and the transition to full international control, and 2. Russian refusal to agree to an international system of inspection to control atomic energy production.

Teachers Eat Roast Turkey, Hear of Safety

It was roast turkey and dressing with the trimmings but little speeching for the supervisors of safety in the Mansfield public schools last night.

The teachers who direct safety work in the schools were the guests of the Insurance Board of Mansfield at a dinner at the Sky club.

After introductions all around, Lee Powell, presiding, presented Frend Boals, Mansfield traffic director, who outlined the years-long campaign to reduce accidents among children on the school grounds and on streets.

Before the war, said Boals, the total went down, but, due to the difficulty of maintaining sufficient personnel during the war, the work lagged somewhat. As a result, Boals said, the number of accidents among children had shown something of an increase.

Boals' talk was brief. He informed the teacher-safety supervisors he'd visit them in the next few days to tell them more of what he hoped each school would do to reduce accidents and to make children more safety conscious.

AIRMEN GIVE SHOW

CHILLICOTHE — (INS) — An air show by 60 marine corps veterans and a two-hour parade was to highlight Chillicothe's sesquicentennial celebration today. The fliers will be led by Capt. R. F. Conley and the parade will be one of the largest in the history of Chillicothe.

Friendly House Kindergarten Opens

Thirty Children Enrolled

By MARGUERITE MILLER

The tricycles were painted and oiled, the dolls dressed and the blocks dusted off at Friendly House this week.

The city's only free kindergarten is beginning its 33rd year with an enrollment of 30 four-and-five-year-olds who are already practicing tolerance, manners and cooperation.

Tea parties are served by a Polish-American child whose "guests" are both colored and white. Hands clasp in a circle dance and five-year-olds exchange "thank yous" for turns on the tricycle.

At the sounding of piano chords, the play session stops and the children immediately become "helpers." Toys are put away and in little more than a minute the room becomes still as hands fold on the tables.

CHILDREN COME FROM NEIGHBORHOOD

For two hours, five mornings of the week, Mrs. Russell Gimble oversees the play and teaching of the children who come, for the most part, from the immediate neighborhood of the settlement house.

"I had to turn away about 15 four-year-olds this year," Mrs. Gimbel said. "Our kindergarten seems to have fallen in line with crowded schools throughout the country, and we found that we had to give preference to the five-year-olds."

This year marks the start of the 17th year at the Friendly House for Mrs. Gimbel. It also marked a year in which she welcomed the child of a girl who attended the kindergarten some years ago.

The child, Becky Kaler, 4, speaks both Polish and English fluently, but the Polish is reserved for home use since the grandparents, with whom she lives, speak nothing else.

"We hold the kindergarten session the same as the public school sessions," Mrs. Gimbel went on. "If we held the children here during school vacations, we'd have too many visitors looking in the windows to see what was going on.

* * *

The same holidays as those observed by the public schools are observed at the kindergarten, which "specializes" in parties at Hallowe'en, Christmas, Valentine Day and at Easter.

"At 10 each morning, a half pint of milk is given to each child and a brief recess observed," Mrs. Gimbel continued. "Cost of the milk is 20 cents a week for each child and it is very beneficial for the child's health."

As in the public schools, a "report" card is sent home with the children, grading each child on such things as use of the handkerchief, personal cleanliness, obeying orders, manners and interest. Grades are also given for ability to write their names, tell their names and addresses, writing numbers from one to 10, attentiveness to stories and ability to cut and color.

"Kindergarten offers a good foundation for first grade." Mrs. Gimble said. "Most of our children do not know how to color or write their names when they come here, so the first six weeks of every session are turned over to those things which more fortunate children learn at home.

"The children work beautifully together and once they start kindergarten, they rarely miss a day unless they are ill."

The Friendly House is one of the 11 Red Feather agencies of the Mansfield Community Fund.

EVERYONE'S INVITED TO TEA when the Friendly House kindergarten has a party. And parties are a favorite pastime of the 30 little tots of four and five years who are regular morning "students" at the only free kindergarten in the city. Left foreground, Carrie Kay Hamilton, 5, arrives a little late with her baby doll to find that the party has already begun. Others from left to right are, Bonnie Sue Mathews, 5; Becky Kaler, 4, serving; Judy Jerger, 4, in left background; Harold Howell, 5, seemingly enjoying the party, while Joe Lewis Crenshaw, 4, makes a phone call to some delinquent member of the party. Such sessions as these have been held since 1913 at the settlement house, which represents one of the 11 Red Feather agencies of the Mansfield Community Fund. (News-Journal staff photo).

Likes YWCA Because It Builds Confidence and Leadership

(Editor's Note: This is another interview with a representative of a Mansfield agency which receives help from the Community Fund.)

"Work in the YWCA has given me confidence and leadership I never knew I had."

Those are the words of Miss Regina Finney, member of the "Y" nominating committee and advisor to the Senior Blue-Tri club.

"The YWCA gives girls a chance to participate in the things they plan themselves and gives them a challenge to go ahead and do things.

"Most of the girls in the teen-age groups don't realize it now, but the older you get the more you realize what the "Y" does toward developing an individual's personality and ability."

An active member of the YWCA for the past six years, Miss Finney finds time to sandwich in two nights a week for the "Y" in addition to her outside activities.

MISS REGINA FINNEY

"I don't think most people are aware that the "Y" is just as much an organization for the girls out of school as for the teen-agers," she commented. "'Y' work goes beyond the younger years and takes in employed girls, housewives and older business women."

She referred directly to the Employed Girls', the Vesper club and the Public Affairs Forum, all active groups within the YWCA.

"My personal opinion is that there's no better group for a young girl to belong to," she added.

Miss Finney resides with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Senert, 100 Dawson avenue.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves, instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in the back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD OHIO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1946

What ever became of that one-time popular competitive slogan: "Depend on us for prompt service."

The campaign orator was greeted by much applause when he spoke in behalf of the public weal—they thought he said veal.

According to a recent Gallup poll, 51 per cent of the people do not know what balancing the federal budget means"—all right then, you 49 per cent, what does it mean?

Mounting Prices Wreck Budgets

WHEN the retail price of a commodity—such as butter—is quoted at 98 cents a pound, it might as well be placed at an even $1.00 a pound! What can you do with the inconsequential two cents that is returned in change!

This comment is not intended as adverse criticism of dollar a pound butter—or of any other of what seem to be atrociously high prices for practically everything that enters into living costs. Maybe, on the basis of present dollar value, butter should be even more than a dollar a pound and milk more than the 18 cents a quart at which it is now priced—and eggs at 79 cents a dozen may reflect no more than a reasonable profit over production and distribution costs.

But how are families with moderate income, or those on fixed incomes, to finance this extra drain on their resources?

How are families in which there are several children to meet the cost of an adequate, health-sustaining milk supply for the children, and to have money enough to pay for butter, meat, vegetables, and other requirements for comfortable living in accordance with the highly touted "American standards"?

Little wonder that there is discontent, worry, and a feeling that somehow, somewhere, there has been frightful muddling of the whole domestic economy—with chief blame resting upon agencies of government which have been clothed with authority but appear lacking in ability to bring some semblance of order out of the chaos that now exists and which seems to be getting worse.

Relatively small groups have developed organized power sufficient to enforce demands for wage increases designed to keep pace with price advances—but what are the millions who constitute the nation's majority to do?

OPA Disregards Acute Paper Shortage

THAT DAZED expression that you occasionally notice on the face of an ordinarily keen-witted business man may be accounted for by his failure to comprehend the meaning or purpose of the mass of material he has been receiving from the Office of Price Administration in recent weeks.

At least one recipient of this printed flood of instructions, directives, bulletins, corrections, amendments, changes, etc., etc., etc., took the trouble to preserve all of the couple of weeks mailings—and the accumulation is impressive, being about four inches in thickness and containing an estimated several thousand sheets, mostly in the 8½ by 11 standard size but sometimes varying to smaller bits of paper, as, for instance, in caring for such things as "Rev. SO 119, corr. to amdt. 5," and the like.

Things that an able lawyer would find it difficult to understand, and which often confuse OPA agents themselves, are unloaded on business men who can scarcely be expected to find time to even READ all of the stuff, much less understand it.

This is indicative of only one business man's experience—imagine its multiplication to such extent as to cover the large and small businesses all over the country!

Then take into account the critical paper shortage—and you will begin to get a glimmering of its cause. Only yesterday Director Fred C. Holder, of OPA's Industrial Price Division, said that the shortage of paper products, such as toilet tissues, is expected to last for "some months."

Idea: Why not print OPA bulletins and similar mass output of governmental agencies on paper suited to use as toilet tissue—so that the waste may not be total . . . and at least one shortage relieved.

Crashes Mar Air Travel Record

WHILE the complete record of aerial transportation tends to support the claim of superior safety, as compared with other means of travel, it cannot be escaped that tragic occurrences of recent months have raised a doubt in the public mind as to the actual safety of plane travel, either for regular or occasional trips.

The two recent plane crashes in Newfoundland, both trans-Atlantic flights of modern airliners, clearly indicate that something is still lacking in the matter of assured safety of passengers and crew, and it seems no less than miraculous that there were any survivors of the crash at Gander two weeks ago.

Yesterday's air disaster at Stephenville, Newfoundland, in which all of the 39 persons aboard are reported dead, is termed "the worst tragedy in the history of commercial aviation," but with promised bigger and faster airliners, such tragedies may easily become worse—unless the safety element in construction and operation can be more strongly stressed than it has yet been.

Completion of Historical Circle

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY completed a neat historical circle in conferring a high degree on the gaitered, frock-coated Most Rev Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury. The New York institution which honored the distinguished visiting Englishman has grown from little King's college, administered by a royal charter that named the archbishop of Canterbury as the first trustee in 1754.

It's another illustration of the far-reaching heritages the two great English-speaking nations hold in common.

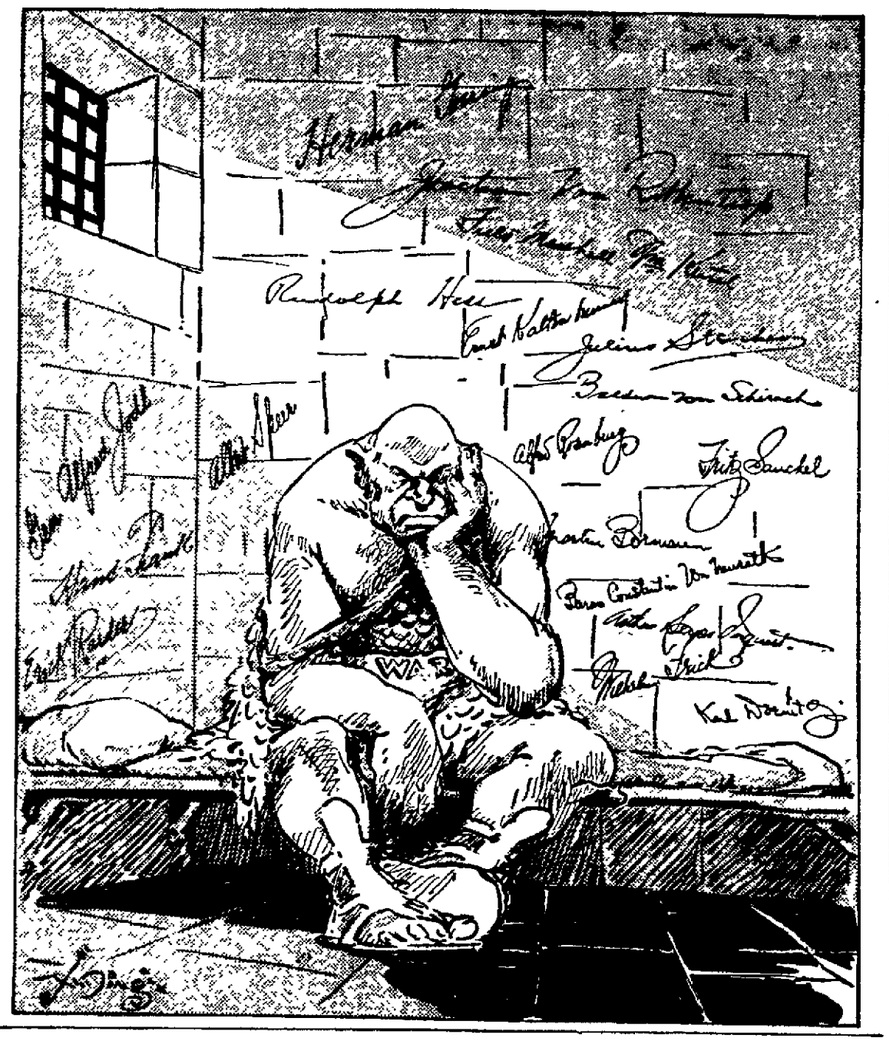
Explanation is that the beef and pork that should be eaten now was eaten in July and August—so we are now eating the chickens and turkeys that would ordinarily be reserved for Thanksgiving and Christmas . . . and if this doesn't work out the Washington planners will undoubtedly "try something else."

Now that a year has passed since Shirley Temple's wedding, it is being recalled that she is among the few Hollywood celebrities who was married for the first time.

Maybe the insurance companies might be able to evolve a foreign policy with accident coverage.

Stalin's recent speech has been termed "disarming"—but not militarily so, it would appear.

ONE REMAINS UNSENTENCED



Russia Threatens To Publish List Of Britishers In Service of Hitler

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The state department recently leaked out a plan by which the United States would publish some of the secret documents relating to Russia's collaborating with Germany during the Nazi-Soviet pact period. The documents, of course, are packed with dynamite. They show Hitler and Stalin in active collaboration prior to 1941.

However, as soon as this information leaked out, Molotov sent word to British Foreign Minister Bevin that if the United States published these papers, Russia would publish certain documents of its own. The documents even list the sums which Hitler paid to some very important Englishmen.

Although London will deny it, the foreign office is now hoping that the state department keeps its mouth shut.

Phil Murray May Resign.

A lot of people both in and out of labor are worried for fear Phil Murray will resign as head of CIO. It has been Murray's wisdom that has kept the extremists in the CIO in check.

However, he isn't getting any younger, is in poor health, and wants to resign at the November CIO convention in Atlantic City If he does, the CIO will split into various pieces. For that reason many friends are imploring him to remain and the present plan is to re-elect him unanimously.

Refugees Blocked.

Last Christmas President Truman courageously ordered the state department to provide visas for the entry of more than 40,000 displaced persons from Europe into the United States However, nine months later, the gentlemen of the state department have only handed out 4,000 visas.

Result: President Truman, who has just got wind of this, may crack down on the state department and demand the firing of the obstructionists.

Truman Declines.

One of the savviest members of congress, Edith Nourse Rogers, has a reputation for usually getting what she goes after. However, the charming and tenacious congresswoman from Massachusetts batted .000 when she braced President Truman the other day about calling a special session of congress to deal with the meat shortage

She also flied out in her attempt to induce Truman to order Agriculture Secretary Anderson to rescind price controls on meat.

"The meat shortage is extremely critical in my state," said Mrs Rogers. "We can't even get meat for the hospitals. You've got to do something."

Truman replied that he was aware of the situation in Massachusetts and elsewhere and was deeply troubled by it, but that there was little he could do if cattlemen refused to market their beef.

He added he had no intention of upsetting the stabilization program by steps to abolish meat controls through action by Anderson and the Price Decontrol board He was solidly behind Anderson in the latter's stand against lifting the ceilings, Truman said, and it would take a lot to make him change his mind.

"Well, why don't you call a special session of congress to deal with the problem?" persisted Mrs Rogers "The OPA extension bill isn't working, so why not let's admit it and pass another law that will enable people to buy meat, even if it means doing away with price controls?"

Truman replied that he himself didn't like the OPA bill passed by congress, but was compelled to sign it or have no controls at all

"No," he added. "I don't intend to call back congress to deal with the meat shortage—not just yet, anyway. I don't think it would solve anything"

Capital Chaff.

General "Beetle" Smith, U S. ambassador to Russia, is fed up with Moscow, has asked to be made ambassador to France . . . President Truman will ask congress for a special $200,000,000 grant to aid a democratic Italy after UNRRA expires January 1 . . . The Civil Aeronautics board has refused to consider the petition of Elliott Roosevelt's air line to reopen hearings on feeder lines in New York and New England. . . . Stanley Arnold author of "Star Spangled Banter," points out that President Truman has really gone in for reversing himself. New Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman has exactly the reverse initials of Henry A. Wallace—H A W. vs. W. A. H. Harriman, of course, is the exact reverse of Wallace in more ways than initials

President Truman has abandoned plans for a nation-wide barn-storming tour in behalf of Democratic congressional candidates. Too many of his old senate buddies whom he was not scheduled to support by personal visits would be offended. Instead Truman will confine his active campaign to two radio speeches, one about October 10, the other a week before election day.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"We could go places with my brains and your looks!"

Listen World!

My Father Always Tipped His Hat.

By ELSIE ROBINSON

HE ALWAYS tipped his hat Never in my life did I see him wear a new suit of cloths. Nor draw a breath without anguish. His hands were warped with brutal toil and his face scarred with suffering.

Yet never, among the rich and cultured and great who have come my way, have I seen such a courtly spirit.

Did I say he was poor?

I take it back.

He was the richest man I have ever known and he made every man he met seem rich, though he might not have a nickel in his pocket. He had that wealth which needs no wallet or bank book—the endless wealth within his own soul.

I have never been sure to which political party Dad belonged In his short life he tried everything once, at least. It was not a question with him of political party but of principle. And he embraced whatever seemed to offer the noblest principle—the widest privilege for the common man For he loved People and always he voted for People.

Always he voted to give People a better break.

He believed in the dignity of the universal human soul, whatever its outward color or creed He did not talk amout it much—he simply lived it and, at a time of wholesale intolerance, indifference and contempt for the poor and oppressed, he showed his belief by the simplest yet most significant of all gestures—

He always tipped his hat to everyone, even to us, his children, when he passed us playing in the street.

There was nothing theatrical in this gesture I doubt if he even was conscious of it. It was simply the natural outward sign of his respect for all human beings

He did not select the humans he saluted. A bandit from the border riding hell bent on untold viciousness . . . an old woman bent under her load of laundry . . . a banker swaggering with cane and spats—they were all the same to him In each one he saw the spark which God had breathed into the lump of clay and he doffed his hat to that spark

Perhaps he was wrong. Perhaps he should have had the bandit arrested and the washerwoman given over to the charities. But I am sure it never occurred to him to do these things. They were what they were and he respected it.

He was the greatest democrat I ever knew.

He was the only man I ever knew who treated all men, women and children as his brothers

I do not know what the future may hold for me. But I hope this—when the time comes for me to limp up the Great White Way and face my judgment, I hope my father will be somewhere there for me . . . and lift his hat

Assignment: America

—By KENNETH L. DIXON

Another Example Of History Repeating.

WASHINGTON — No question about it, neighbor, the nation seems to be in pretty nasty shape. You can't blame a man for feeling mighty blue and morbid when he looks around over the country.

What does he see, at the end of the first postwar year?

Strikes, strikes and still more strikes. . . . Stock market dips and instability. . . . Housing crises everywhere. . . . Inflation. . . . Meat and other shortages equally irksome. . . . Racial hatreds on the increase . . . Rebirth of the Ku Klux Klan. . . . Communist and anti-Communist drives. . . .

On and on the list goes Search as he may, the average citizen is hard-put to find even a couple of small silver linings in the postwar clouds.

However, if you want to prevent gloom and pessimism from driving you completely nuts, neighbor, take a day or two off and look backward instead of forward for a change.

Do a little research Check through the newspaper files of a quarter-century ago Glance at the history books. Or talk to a few of the capital old-timers whose memories or 1919 and 1920 remain vivid enough to recall some surprising parallels.

During 1919, for example, strikes in coal mines, railroad yards, steel mills, textiles, building trades and clothing factories were participated in by more than four million workers!

Like today, many of those work stoppages were so-called "wildcat strikes," with the various unions rejecting responsibility for them—especially in instances where the government stepped in with injunctions Also like today, the steel strikes alone brought heavy production lags in almost every major industry.

Moreover, many of those strikes were widely believed to be Moscow-inspired, and the more-or-less conservative (even in those days) American Federation of Labor was openly accused of being in the pay of Communists

Frightened by more provable evidence of upsurging Red activity, congress tightened immigration laws to "keep out radicals," and District of Columbia school teachers were forbidden, for a time, to define Communism to their pupils.

The second year after the World war, only about one-fourth as many workers went out on strike. Simultaneously, the activity of known Communists began to decline, accompanied by a lessening of the widespread Red scare.

By the end of 1920, the labor and production lags had largely leveled off and picked up the previous slack. Stock prices took a drastic drop about a year after the war ended then—almost exactly the same length of time which elapsed between VJ-day and the recent Wall Street jitters

Bad as it is, today's cost of living (as figured by the bureau of labor statisticians) is only 46 per cent higher than it was at the outbreak of war in 1939. But in 1920 it was 110 per cent higher than it had been when the World war started in 1914!

(That however, has to be taken with a pinch of salt, neighbor, since prices generally were a lot higher already in 1939 than they were in 1914. But even there, you have to keep in mind that the average hourly wages in manufacturing, for instance, are almost twice as much today as in 1920)

The housing crisis definitely is worse today than it was in 1920, probably because our participation in the war, accompanied by a moratorium on most building, was much longer this time. Even then, though, it was great enough to skyrocket real estate and home prices to heights even greater than today's.

And veterans—then as now—were hardest hit by the housing shortage.

More research reveals that racial outbreaks were on the increase, with more lynchings, the revival of the infamous Ku Klux Klan, and eventual appeals for greater rights for the Negro—much like last week's appeal to the president by the anti-lynching committee.

All this pyramiding evidence as to history's proclivity for repetition might be profoundly depressing, except for one thing: It proves we did survive an epidemic of these ills at least once before.

As a matter of fact, in 1919 people were saying that if this newest, most horrible weapon of war were not outlawed, all of civilization would be destroyed.

They were speaking, of course, of poison gas.

South Dakotans Bitterly Opposed To OPA.

IN SOUTH DAKOTA — This state, like others in this general area, has been staunchly Republican in recent years. It has, however, quite a few Democrats.

A sampling in two communities here yields a viewpoint toward Washington and the Truman administration that should be fairly representative and provide some interesting clues on the November elections. The sampling included Republican, Democratic and independent viewpoints.

Their impression of what goes on in Washington might be compared to what is seen when you look through one of those children's toys, a kaleidoscope, that throws colored paper particles into all sorts of designs—a sort of orderly confusion.

The larger pieces which fall, now here, now there, represent government bureaus and agencies, and the small particles which scatter helter-skelter represent what are commonly called out this way, sneeringly, "bureaucrats."

This is not given as a true picture of administration in Washington, which seems more orderly and of more purpose when you watch it at first-hand, but as the picture that so many of these people out here see, colored perhaps by prejudice.

And they seem to look at President Truman through the wrong end of the telescope, making the man in the White House of smaller stature and more ineffectual than appears closer up He still has a good deal of sympathy. He is recognized as an earnest, sincere man of good intentions and of high ideals and integrity, and on occasion, of considerable courage—if delayed in action—but, over-all, not very effective

The question most often asked is about his advisers The impression seems to be that they are not too highly regarded.

The Byrnes-Wallace episode is, of course, more discussed now than anything else. The president recovered somewhat among most of these people when he finally fired Henry Wallace.

But the indecision that preceded it in various compromises left an impression of confusion. That impression also has been intensified by the backdown on the wage stabilization formula in the seamen's strike and in the gyrations of OPA, which is the big black beast of Washington out here.

Henry Wallace has lots of friends out this way because he was identified for so long with a farm relief, but one still staunch New Dealer said an overwhelming majority here thought the president's solution in backing up Secretary Byrnes was the only one. He said also, however, that at least a hundred farmers had since commented to him, in effect: "it's too bad about Wallace"

OPA seems to have few friends, which is natural in this area. But even its former friends find it hard to defend because of the confusion thrown about its operations, for which, of course, OPA is not entirely to blame. Congress must share the blame.

OPA appears often in the guise of a price-increase agency to which its reply is that it is only carrying out the mandates of congress.

But few people out here, if any, can understand the final confusing form of that legislation

For that reason and because nearly every congressman, at one stage or another, voted on almost every side of the issue, and can thus explain his position in any way he chooses, it seems that any potency the issue might have had for Democrats has been drained away

Swedes Define "Liberal" More Exactly.

STOCKHOLM — Perhaps the most abused political term in current use today is the word "liberal" Particularly in the United States, it's made to cover a multitude of viewpoints that have little to do with political actualities.

It's stretched to cover those who believe in taking off all government controls to provide a theoretical free market. Fellow travelers and near-communists appropriate the word for their own uses.

Here in this small progressive country, "liberal" has a more exact meaning. Those who use it have a more realistic concept of what can and cannot be achieved in an age in which technology has compelled a high degree of centralization.

Liberal thought has two main sources in Sweden. One is the Liberal party, headed by Prof Bertil Ohlin of the University of Stockholm Incidentally, the Conservative party also is headed by a professor; and a professor—Gunnar Myrdal—is one of the leaders in the Social Democratic party. The Swedes put a high value on men with brains and specialized training.

Prof Ohlin, well known in the USA, where he frequently has lectured, is an exponent of a kind of liberalism that would make some Americans who call themselves liberals shudder with horror. This professor-politician believes in raising social security rates

He believes in expanding and improving a system of public medicine which makes low-cost medical care possible for all. There are few social reforms he would abolish or alter.

Where he differs from Socialists is in opposing nationalization. He also fights extension of the kind of governmental controls that seem to be applied merely for the sake of control

On the subject of committees and commissions that persist long after their usefulness is over, he sounds more like an old-fashioned American liberal But the important point is that Ohlin and other liberals here realize that the clock cannot be pushed back to the time of Adam Smith, when the chief power was the human back supplemented by the horse.

The second main source of liberal thought here is in the cooperative movement and, more particularly, in Albin Johansson, head of the cooperative wholesale society. Johansson believes in competition in a free economy as the best means of getting lower costs and higher quality.

At the same time, he is realistic enough to recognize that, if consumers do not act in their own interests, the final result is likely to be either state control or private monopoly.

Recently, the Social Democratic government proposed nationalization of the oil industry and of shoe manufacturing. Royal committees were put to work to recommend proper steps to carry this out But Johansson acted quickly to head off the oil proposal.

He persuaded organizations of motorists, fishermen and other principal users of petroleum products, to join with cooperative societies in a league to fight nationalization. As the league includes a large proportion of the voting population, it's unlikely that the government will press the measure

The government may eventually build a new refinery, but cooperative leaders would not oppose such a step..

A government refinery would provide a yardstick of competition for private enterprise and for the cooperatives as well.

Sometimes liberals appear to be a hopelessly outmoded phenomenon in an age of centralized power, but at least here, they are working hard to give liberalism a reality it too often lack elsewhere.

Farmer's Diary

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

BACK FOR A VISIT

I MET an old man on the village street He was short and lean, his thin face marked by many kindly wrinkles . . . a thoughtful countenance that claimed respect. I had never met the man before, yet I felt a nearness that made me happy.

"I'm here on a visit" he explained, "after nearly thirty years away. I've tried to hunt up some of the folks I used to know The sadler's gone, and the blacksmith and the shoemaker The bank is grown up . . . so is the school. The folks I see on the street look familiar but I don't know who they are until somebody introduces me Then they turn out to be the children of my old neighbors

"My family? Yes, I've raised six children Four boys and two girls. They're all well and busy . . . all on farms but one. Providence was with me, and we prospered fairly well. My wife is thrifty . . . she keeps me in line. We taught our children to work and to count a good name above riches, like the Good Book says. One of our boys went to college. Now he's teaching in a school in China.

"We've got twelve grandchildren . . . three of 'em growing up on foreign soil. We hope they'll come home for a visit next year. They've got to know so many Chinese friends they even speak the lingo. They say that friends can talk in any language . . . that's a nice idea, ain't it? Friendship makes a language of its own.

"I'm eighty next month. My wife is three years younger. Right now she's gone with one of the girls to pick out a new hat. I told 'em to leave me out of it . . . I'd wait right here. I wish you could meet the Mrs. She's the best half of our team. The Lord took care of me when I met and married her . . . as one of my granddaughters said once, 'Grandma's corsetic and on the ball . . . how strange it must seem to such a small woman to be the beginning of so much!'

"Well, I'm glad you stopped to talk to me. Seems like the old town is as friendly as ever. It's a good place to be . . . folks who live here have everything. And, in spite of yourself, wherever you go you take it with you."

Steer Discloses Plan to Elect Hero to 'Royal Order of Moo'

By JOHN MINE

The subject of my interview was lolling among stacks of OPA regulations and munching contentedly on a ceiling price.

For an 800-pound steer to be doing such, of course, is a bit unusual. So I proceeded with caution.

"Perhaps," I thought, "he's too busy to be interviewed on the meat shortage."

But when I peeped over a pile of regulations I saw that he was throwing darts at a picture of a butcher and making bronx cheer noises with his tongue.

A dart pierced the mid-riff of the butcher's picture and the steer gave out with a roaring belly-laugh.

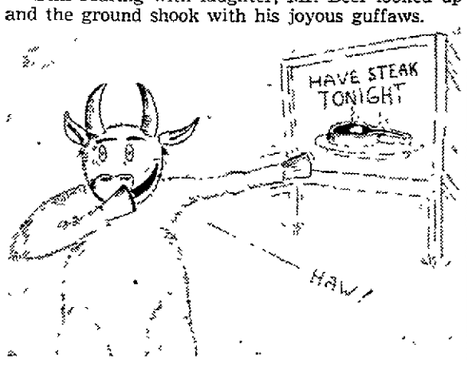
* * *

"Now's the time," I thought.

I cleared my throat and started off, polite-like, with a "Mr. Steer, if you please." (If anyone was going to be impolite to 800 pounds of juicy beefsteak these days, it wasn't going to be ME!)

"Er, Mr. Steer," I said, "my paper wants a statement or two from you on the meat shortage."

Still roaring with laughter, Mr. Beef looked up and the ground shook with his joyous guffaws.



His head snapped up. "What? What's that, you say?" He continued to giggle and brushed a joy-born tear from his eye.

I repeated my request.

"Oh," (more giggling), he said, "sure, sure. Be glad to." He flicked a bit of ceiling price from his coat.

* * *

"Brother," he said (and at this point he put his tongue in his cheek—or wherever it is a steer puts his tongue) "if this 'shortage' continues the country's going to be lousy with contented bovines."

"From border-to-border there'll be nothin' but slap-happy steers thumbing their snouts at the stock-yards."

"Fish will become the national dish. Every day will be Friday. Yes sir, 'gimme a fish-burger with onion and pickle both' they'll be saying." He could hardly contain himself.

He clicked his hoofs and kicked over a stack of regulations. He laughed till more tears came.

* * *

"Son, if this 'shortage' continues the national anthem will be 'Pack Up Your Pickerel in Your Old Kit Bag and Smile, Smile, Smile.'

"And, if things go on as they are do you know what us steers are going to do? We're going to elect a national hero.

"To him will go the 'Royal Order of the Moo' for his part in promoting this meatless millennium."

* * *

Mr. Beef yanked one of the darts from the target. He felt its point with a fore-hoof Then, with an ugly steer-sneer he shot it, bullet-like, at the butcher's picture again, shouting:

"And BUTCHERS! Why those so-and-so's will go out of business!" With that wonderful thought, Mr. Beef dashed half way across the pasture, reared up on his hind legs and bellowed an earth-shaking "YIPPEEEEEEEE!"

The last I saw of him he was galloping joyously off and making unkind noises in the direction of a huge, weather-beaten bill-board which read:

"Glotz Brothers, Butchers, Invites You to Treat the Family to a Thick, Juicy Steak Tonight."

The bill-board evidently hadn't heard of the meat shortage.

PROVIDE FOOD

26 States, Hawaii Join In School Lunch Plan.

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Twenty-six states and Hawaii have agreed to match funds with the federal government to feed millions of needy school children.

The Council of State Governments said that under the new $75,000,000 legislation, lunches will be served on a non-profit basis at reduced rates or free.

States will put up half the cost this year, the council said, and the federal share will be reduced gradually to one-fifth by 1951. Previously, the federal government financed the program without state aid.

$2,646,761 Sales For Rubber Firm

WILLARD — At the annual stockholders' meeting this week, sales of $2,646,761.06 and taxes amounting to $367,800 for the fiscal year ending August 31, were announced by J. C. Gibson, president. A dividend of 50 cents a share was paid last month.

Gibson, K. L. Milligan, R. K. Williams, John Clay, Leon Swope, Lavern Pagel and C. R. Clark were re-elected to the board of directors.

All-Veteran Band to Play at Mansfield Police Ball Oct. 14

Jimmy Joyce's 13-piece orchestra, "designed primarily for smooth dancing", will play at the Mansfield Policemen's ball, Oct. 14 at the Coliseum.

The Joyce band, with its five saxophones, five brasses and three rhythm pieces, will help the local force go over the top in its efforts to raise funds for its child safety program.

The band features Wally Clouser as "front man" on the alto saxophone; Otey Chambers handles the romantic ballads while Dudley Jaeger sings the "bounce and novelty" tunes.

Annually, hundreds of Mansfield area dance fans jam the Coliseum for this "always-on-the-calendar" event — "The Policeman's Ball."

The Joyce band, is back in business after four years of war, in which every musician has served. Every branch of the service and every theater of operations is represented in the band.

Washington Cars Need Ash Trays

BLEWETT PASS, Wash.—(U.P.) —Motorists who didn't know have found out it is against the law not to have an ash tray in the car.

The Washington State Patrol and the National Forest Service have established a checking station near Blett Pass, where officers have discovered one car in six is not equipped with an ash tray as required by law.

WARSAW WEEPS

Many Cry, But They Know Not For Whom Tears Are Shed.

WARSAW, Poland—(AP)—Many cried, but they knew not for whom they wept.

Six tons of human ashes—those of hundreds who were slain and cremated in Warsaw by the Nazis during their long occupation—were scooped up by a Red Cross committee and placed in 100 plain, wooden coffins.

After the requiem service, a funeral procession formed, consisting of ten trucks carrying the coffins and a large crowd of people, headed by the Rev. Col. S. Warchalowski, of the Polish army.

An honorary company of soldiers accompanied the procession to a cemetery and fired three salutes as the coffins were opened and the ashes poured into a common grave.

Many, including soldiers, cried, even though they did not know for whom they wept, for there was no way of identifying whose ashes were among those cascaded into the grave.

Guatemala is the chief commercial country of Central America.

Ashland Annual Staff Appointed

ASHLAND — David Kick is newly appointed editor-in-chief of the 1947 Guide, Ashland high school annual, with Norma Hostettler named as business manager.

Others chosen on the Guide staff include Margaret Morr, literary editor; Marilyn McWilliams, assistant; Charles Dilgard, features; Patti Mosher, assistant; Glorene Stauffer, art; Phyllis Ballou, assistant; Carolyn Bixler, girls, sports; Bea Garrison, assistant; Jack Boeh, boys' sports; Joe Wierich, assistant; Margery Hendry, Arlene Stauffer, Lloyd Wygand and Richard Miller, special coordinators.

22 Are Arrested In Holmes County

MILLERSBURG — Two more arrests were made in Holmes county in September than during the previous month, according to Sheriff Wayne D. Starner. Twenty-two were recorded for September and 20 for August.

Last month 13 were arrested for investigation; three for intoxication; two for assault and battery and one each for reckless driving, breaking and entering, stealing and mental case.

VIGILANTES ORGANIZED

FORT COLLINS, Colo.—(AP)—"Traffic Vigilantes" are being organized here as a secret corps to report traffic-law violations to the Larimer County Traffic Safety Council.

Members will be given postcards to report violations they see, and from data on these cards authorities will prepare and mail notices to the offenders calling attention to the infraction and requesting co-operation in law enforcement.

FOR ALL MY BAKING, VELVET GIVES ME BEST RESULTS
—says Mrs. Robert Nye of Detroit

Mrs. Robert Nye, 655 Harding, Detroit, Michigan, says, "No wonder so many women prefer Velvet. It's a must in my kitchen." Mrs. Nye is another of the many enthusiastic women who help give Velvet its leadership.

Where VELVET Is Best Known
Women Buy More VELVET Than Any Other Cake Flour

Actual Survey Shows Velvet Ahead of All Other Cake Flours

Yes—ma'am—it's true. Where Velvet is best known women buy more Velvet than any other cake flour, no matter what the price. We discovered that by an actual survey.

No wonder women like Velvet. So many of them say they get the best results when they use this wonderful flour. More tender, flakier pastry—fluffier, lighter cakes—that's what every woman wants, and Henkel's Velvet Cake Flour can help you to get them.

Just try this great flour. See if you don't agree with all the other good cooks who say, "Velvet's tops."

CHOCOLATE ROLL

Recipe

Roll:
¾ cup sifted Velvet Cake Flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon cold water
4 eggs, separated
¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
Few drops orange extract

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together 3 times. Add water to egg yolks and place bowl over hot water and beat until light. Gradually add ½ cup of sugar and continue to beat until mixture is thick and lemon colored. Remove bowl from hot water and add flavoring. Sift flour into mixture gradually and fold in with a slotted spoon or fork. Beat egg whites until almost stiff. Gradually add remaining sugar and beat until mixture stands in firm shiny peaks. Fold into batter lightly but thoroughly. Spread carefully into a waxed paper lined jelly roll pan (15½ x 10½ x ⅝ inches). Bake on the center rack in a moderately hot oven (400° F.) for 7 or 8 minutes until cake tests done Loosen edges and turn out onto a towel sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Peel the wax paper quickly from bottom of cake and cut off crusty edges Starting with the short end, roll up and wrap in towel. When cool, unroll and spread with filling. Re-roll, wrap ag'un and chill before serving.

Filling:
1 envelope unflavored gelatin (about 1 tablespoon)
¼ cup cold water
2 oz. unsweetened chocolate
½ cup sugar
Dash salt
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Melt chocolate over hot water; add sugar and salt and blend. Add milk gradually, stirring to keep smooth. Add softened gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat and cool until thick Fold in the vanilla and whipped cream immediately and spread on cake.

New Plan Pays Family Hospital Bill

Protects Entire Family for Sickness, Accident and Childbirth

Includes Hospital Room, Surgeon Fees, Medicine, X-rays, etc.

Information Free

A new low-cost plan that pays cash for your hospital expenses has now been provided in a new kind of family insurance policy created by the well-known United Insurance Co. As this policy provides, your entire family is covered for hospitalization due to sickness, accident and childbirth.

75 Days In Hospital

According to the liberal provisions of this new plan, you get the following benefits: (1) Cash for room and board, up to seventy-five days for each member of the family each sickness or accident; (2) Cash to pay for the various hospital extra charges, such as operating room fee, X-rays, anesthetic, medicines, ambulance service, etc. (3) Cash to help pay the surgeon fees. There are many other benefits which make this United policy the most liberal hospital protection ever devised.

COVERS DISEASES OF EITHER SEX

And all the members of your immediate family (ages 3 months to 67 years) are protected under a single policy, on which you pay one premium each month. In the case of the average family, this premium amounts to only a few cents a day.

Old Established Company

This policy is backed by an old established Company which has faithfully served the Middle West for many years. As provided in this policy, you are paid cash for hospital expenses whether the disability occurs at home or at work. And you are not limited to any certain hospital. The money is paid to you. So you pick the hospital, anywhere in the U. S. or Canada. You are provided with an identification card which furnishes the hospital satisfactory evidence of your financial responsibility.

Includes Childbirth Many Extra Benefits

This liberal policy provides many other benefits impossible to list in this limited space. But any one interested can secure full and complete information by mailing the coupon below. There is no cost or obligation. Tear out this coupon now. Over Ten Millions of dollars paid to Policyholders and Beneficiaries.

Sigma Kappa Gamma Plans Hayride, Halloween Party

PLANS for a hayride Nov. 12 with Mrs. Harold Sleck in charge were made at the meeting of Alpha Chapter of Sigma Kappa Gamma sorority last night. Mrs. John Stryker conducted the meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Rhodes, Leppo Lane.

Plans were also made for a Halloween party Oct. 25 at the Yoha farm. Committee in charge includes Mrs. Harold Matteson, Mrs. Jack Palmer, and Miss Doris Kiraly.

It was announced that the editors for November of the sorority paper the Tattler, were Mrs. Peter Mihailoff and Miss Janet Wilson. Mrs. Lois Heber was appointed treasurer in place of Mrs. Don Nateer who has moved to Columbus.

Mrs. Jack Yoha will be hostess for the Oct. 17 meeting at her home on South Main street road.

* * *

Beta Sigma Phi Hears Of Fire Prevention

Don Hall and Donald Leedy addressed members of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority last night in the club rooms of the Southern hotel. Their topic was Fire Prevention. Also on the program was a demonstration of hair styles by Mrs. Richard Dickson, a discussion of early Century painting and make-up, by Miss Zalene Burkhart, and Mrs. Paul Lantz spoke on theatrical make up and masks.

Mrs. Dickson conducted the meeting during which Mrs. Garland Fenneman reviewed the parlimentary laws. It was announced that there would be a dinner for sorority members at Scotties Supper club preceding the formal dance Nov. 23.

The Oct. 17 meeting will be at the Southern hotel.

* * *

Mrs. Bell Presides At Tri-Gam Meeting

Mrs. Foster Bell presided over the meeting of Delta chapter of Gamma Gamma sorority last night. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Warren Ullom, Stewart avenue.

Mrs. Harry Hollingsworth was appointed chairman of the Christmas party.

Prizes for bridge were awarded to Mrs. Frank Mengert and Mrs. Robert Small. Mrs. Bell, Washington avenue, will entertain the chapter Oct. 24.

Beta Kappa Tau Has Business Session

The regular business meeting of the Beta Kappa Tau sorority was held last night at the club room in the YMCA with the newly-elected president, Miss Norma Uhlich, in charge.

After a talk on Frie Prevention by Miss Mary Betz, Miss Uhlich appointed Mrs. Thomas Arehart to serve as corresponding secretary and Mrs. William Knarr as goodwill secretary.

Plans were discussed for a Christmas bazaar and white elephant sale.

Mrs. Ralph Bishop and Mrs. Harold Heston were appointed to make arrangements for the Thanksgiving Dinner dance.

The possibility of organizing chapters in Ashland, Galion and Loudonville was further discussed and arrangements to meet with girls in these towns will be made this month.

First Presbyterian Church Circles Meet Thursday

ASSISTING Mrs. Hal Craiger as hostess at her home on Russell road for the meeting of Circle I of the First Presbyterian church were Mrs. Clark Brook and Mrs. Harold Amsbaugh. Mrs. Milo Heiber led the devotions at the session yesterday afternoon. During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Glenn Rohleder, Mrs. Sam Theaker announced that a box of food and clothing sent to a minister in Scotland had been received and the circle packed a box to be sent to Europe.

Mrs. Etta Malone presented discussion and display of her collection of bells which come from all parts of the world.

The Nov. 7 meeting will be with Mrs. Clarence Williams, Andover road, with Mrs. Dan Wolff as associate hostess.

* * *

Circle 2

The "Beatitudes," which form the opening passage of the Sermon of the Mount, was the devotional subject given by Mrs. W. H. Gifford at a dessert luncheon meeting of Circle 2 of the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. W. B. Ford was hostess yesterday at her home on Chevy Chase road with Mrs. Richard Stander as associate.

Dorothy Kilgallen—

Yaks From the Days of Yore—I have been relaxing again, reading through those charming essays on the Hollywood divinity that appeared in movie magazines of the early period, and I cannot refrain from passing on to the current public some of the choicer excerpts from these gems. I have even unearthed a cinema star previously unknown to me but possessing what is now my favorite name for a glamour girl: Louise Glaum.

Miss Glaum's innermost thoughts were analyzed—from, I suspect, a slight distance—in the August, 1918, issue of Photoplay. The article was called "Vampire or Ingenue." I give it to you:

"When Louise Glaum descended from the train, I fully expected to see the siren supreme, wearing a simple boa constrictor and a headdress of peacock feathers, interspersed with javelins.

"'Miss Glaum,' said someone, and there she was wearing a tailored suit, a tam o'shanter hat and a smile.

"She has the eyes of a Madonna and the mouth of a temptress. Her smile is gulelessly roguish. Her hair is short and curls waggishly. Sometimes, in some lights it is a soft, dark brown; at other times in other lights, it has a glint of Satanic flame.

"She is so democratic, too. She talks to bellhops and manicurists. As a matter of fact, the last words I heard as she and her cortege of farewellers departed from the hotel lobby came from a bellhop: 'Good bye, Louise,' he shouted. 'Hope you'll come back soon.'

"'Goodbye, dear,' she replied.

"No. Louise is no vampire except on the screen. In life, she is just a charming roguish girl in a tam o'shanter."

* * *

An issue or two later, one of Photoplay's feature writers devoted a page to impressions of the movie queens of the day. They went like this:

"Mary Pickford: The first child of the world; dawn over a daisy-filled meadow; the spirit of Spring imprisoned in a woman's body."

"Blanche Sweet: Cleopatra with yellow hair and a divine fragrance; a child you adore most when it pouts; a slender flame in a night of gentle wind."

"Clara Kimball Young: "A Russian princess impersonating an actress; a child in a poppy field at dusk, a marble statue just kissed to life."

* * *

A writer named Alison Smith interviewed Herbert Rawlinson and was impelled to write this piece, under the title "Cramping His Style:"

"As soon as you meet the smiling youth that is Herbert Rawlinson, you understand why he must belong to the West and and West to him. He strides up the city street with the air of roaming the plains. He has rumpled, non-skid hair, direct blue eyes and a jolly grin which tells you immediately he is one to be trusted, implicitly. He has a convulsing habit of telling you the most lugubrious tales of woe from his past life, roaring with joy over them, until you join hilariously in his glee over the glorious way in which he was stung.

"By the time we had compared notes on our favorite hiking and camping stories, I was weak with laughter, the silver and china were all over the place, and a sedate waiter was hovering anxiously over our table.

"'I'm not really myself here,' revealed Herb. 'I feel subdued in the East. I wish you could interview me out West on some bright June morning. We could hop in my car and shoot out to Montecito, a mile a minute. Then, with the wind in our faces and the blood rushing unchecked through our veins, I could really give you a story.'"

LAY LOCKED OUT

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—A prisoner in the jail here, apparently unimpressed with the security of the jail, took a plank and pounded the cell door until he tore up the lock. When Jailer Abner Witherspoon went to remove him for trial, he found it necessary to chisel the man out of his cell.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, October 5.

A general state of adverse and difficult conditions is based on current astral configurations There is a tendency to irritation and tumultous and reckless acts, not only in the disposition and conduct, but in a flare for extravagance, excess, and carelessness with the use of funds, energies and emotions.

Unless this proclivity be checked, and affairs be placed on sound foundations, there may be frustration and lasting regret. Tact and right strategem may assist.

Those whose birthday it is have certain promising openings for success and happiness, both in business and personal affairs, but a stubborn tendency to rash, intemperate, indulgent and extravagant conduct is likely to offset and defeat all such good prospects. This rash expenditure of funds, energies, friends and opportunities should be decisively curbed

A checkup on resources and underlying circumstances might place things on a sound foundation Some strategy or subtle manipulations might assist to more hopeful and enduring denouement.

A child born on this day is disposed to be careless, impetuous, extravagant and willful, and needs early discipline and training.

Argentina ranks with Canada as one of the two most important surplus food producing areas in the world.

What's Cooking?

This pudding is easy to make and offers a good way to use up those last few slices of bread.

Lime Puff Pudding.

1 cup soft bread cubes
½ cup milk
½ cup lime juice
Grated rind of one lime
2 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar

Soak bread in milk a few minutes. Rub through coarse sieve. Add lime juice and rind. Beat egg yolks well. Add sugar and mix thoroughly. Add to bread mixture. Fold in stiffly-beaten egg whites. Pour into a one-quart baking dish, set dish in a pan of hot water and bake at 375° about 35 minutes. Cool and serve plain or with cream.

Veteran of 2 Wars to Head Legion

'46 VICTORY CONVENTION NEARING END

Legionnaires Refuse to Ask Federal Bonus For Vets of 2nd World War.

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS — A veteran of two World wars Paul H. Griffith of Uniontown Pa — was slated to become the new national commander of the American Legion today

As the Legions 1946 Victory convention drew to a close, the Legionnaires demanded a strong U S. foreign policy, condemned Communism and called for increased veterans' benefits

Although taking direct issue with Veterans' Administrator Omar Bradley over ceilings on veterans' benefits the Legionnaires rejected proposals to pay World War II veterans a federal bonus

Highlighting today's closing session was the election of new national officers

A national Legion officer declared that "nothing short of an earthquake could prevent Griffith's election as national commander to succeed John H Stelle of Illinois

Griffith after his retirement from the army following World War II, became executive vice president of the Concion Electric Corp of Brooklyn Baltimore and Washington He also is engaged in public relations in Washington D C

Griffith served as a non-commissioned officer in the 28th Division in the First World war He was department commander of the Legion in Pennsylvania in 1933

During the second World war he served as an executive in the office of undersecretary of war in charge of industrial mobilization He also served as a member of the American Technical Mission in India in 1942 and later served as an assistant to draft director Maj Gen Lewis B Hershey

The voice of more than three million veterans of two wars—as represented by the American Legion— made itself known in no uncertain terms on the subjects of Communism and veterans affairs

The Legions foreign policy endorsed the positive stands of Secretary of State Byrnes and Senators Arthur Vandenberg and Tom Connally and called for strong resistance to the establishment of puppet communistic states

Bedtime Stories

SNAPPER THE GREAT

Listen, but with tongue in cheek,
Whenever boastful strangers speak. —Peter Rabbit.

Peter never will forget the two visitors in white from the Sunny South whom he met at the Smiling Pool. They were cousins of Longlegs the Great Blue Heron, Cousin Egret and Cousin Lil' Blue. The Smiling Pool was like a lovely mirror framed in green with here and there a touch of soft brown, for summer was almost at an end and already the rushes had begun to turn. On the shore just at the edge of these stood the two tall birds in pure white, their reflections in the water matching those of the snowy clouds drifting overhead across the blue, blue sky. It was their first visit to the Smiling Pool and they were a sight worth going far to see. Anyway Peter thought so.

Seeing them separately Peter had thought they looked just alike. Now, seeing them together, he saw they were not. Egret was larger and his long bill was yellow. Lil' Blue's bill was black.

"If I ever see one of them again I'll just look at his bill and then I'll know which he is," thought Peter.

What had brought them north at this time of year? They were vacationing, so they said. They had wanted to see what it was like up here. Now they were about ready to go back. If Lil' Blue should ever come north again he wouldn't be dressed in white, wearing white only for his first year, while Egret would dress in white all his life, Ol' Mistah Buzzard had explained to Peter.

Presently the smooth surface of the water was broken. An ugly black head was thrust out. He stared coldly at the white Herons. There is nothing pleasing about Snapper the Turtle. He is ugly looking and just as ugly as he looks. He has no friends and wants none. He lives in the mud at the bottom of the Smiling Pool and his ways are ways of darkness. He lies in wait for the unsuspecting and on them has grown big. He could tell if he would what has become of many who have strangely disappeared. He is feared by all who live in the Smiling Pool or on it. He has a special liking for young Ducks, coming up beneath them and pulling them down never to be seen again. They are not safe from him even when nearly full grown.

"Don't wade out where that fellow can get hold of you," said Peter to Cousin Egret.

"Do yo' mean that lil' Turtle out there?" asked Cousin Egret.

"Little!" cried Peter. "He isn't little. He is Snapper, biggest of all the Turtles, and a bad one."

The big white bird shook his head. "Brer Rabbit, yo' don't know what yo' are talking about," said he. "No, suh, yo' don' know what yo' are talking about. He may be the biggest Turtle around these parts, but down where Ah don' come from folks wouldn't think he was grown up yet. What did yo' call him?"

"Snapper," replied Peter. "He is a Snapping Turtle. He could snap one of your legs right off."

An ugly black head was thrust out.

Cousin Egret chuckled. "Brer Rabbit," said he, "if yo' want to see a really big Turtle, yo' should come down to mah home in the Sunny South and meet Snapper the Great. That's what Ah calls him. He is so big he could snap your head off with one bite. Yes, suh, he could so. And yo' call that fellow out there big!" He chuckled again.

Peter looked over to Ol' Mistah Buzzard who was sitting on the bank listening. There was a question in Peter's eyes. Ol' Mistah Buzzard nodded. "Brer Egret done tell yo' true, Brer Rabbit," said he.

"Are you sure he is a Snapping Turtle?" asked Peter.

"If yo' should see Snapper the Great yo' wouldn't ask that question. Yo' might almost think them brothers only Snapper the Great is really big," said Cousin Egret. "Folks call him Alligator Snapper. What fo' Ah don't know. He isn't even related to Brer 'Gator. Folks are queer about names Don' yo' think so?" said Cousin Egret."

The next story: "Longlegs Rejoices."

Barclay On Bridge

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

Nobody likes to sit there like a bump on a log while the opponents furnish all the action. There is always a temptation to butt in with some kind of a bid, just for the fun of it, if the other fellows are bidding their way to a high contract. This is especially tempting if one of the bids along the way happens to be a suit of which you hold a long string of cards. Then the most fun is just to double, with the idea that they will slip into something else. But that can be pretty expensive.

	♠ 9 2 ♥ 10 9 ♦ J 9 5 4 3 ♣ 10 8 6 5
♠ Q 10 ♥ Q 7 5 4 3 2 ♦ Q 8 ♣ Q J 7	N W E S	♠ 8 5 4 3 ♥ 6 ♦ 10 7 6 2 ♣ 9 4 3 2
	♠ A K J 7 6 ♥ A K J 8 ♦ A K ♣ A K

(Dealer. South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
2 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♥	Dbl	Pass	Pass
Rdbl

West had the fun of doubling that 3-Hearts bid, but it was the last fun he got out of the hand. When South redoubled, he could find nothing to do except hope that he would get six tricks in some fashion — a pretty forlorn quest against the big opening bid and redouble.

The club Q was opened to the K. South scored two tops in diamonds, two in spades and the club A, then led the spade 6. West ruffed with his Q and returned the heart 2. South got this with the J, then ruffed the spade 7 with the heart 10, returned with a ruff of the club 8 with the heart 8, laid down the heart A and K, then gave West a ruff of the last spade.

With all of his trumps West had taken only two tricks. South therefore made two extras for a bigger score than he had any chance to get otherwise.

LAKE SHIPPING DROPS

CLEVELAND— (AP) —The Lake Superior Iron Ore association today reported September ore shipments of 9,636,353 gross tons were down 8.6 per cent from September, 1945, and the total for the season to Oct. 1 was 29.8 per cent below the same period a year ago. Coal movement was 34,120,565 gross tons compared with 37,331,949 in the 1945 season.

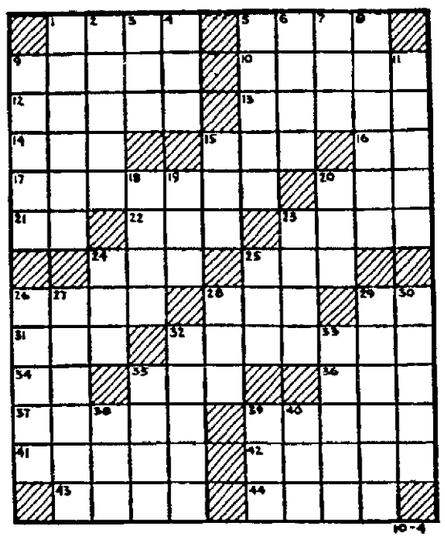
Yesterday's Answer



Calf's Expensive Taste Costs Life

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark.— (AP) —The value of farmer Elmer Henderson's calf took a sudden $80 rise—too sudden for its own good.

Henderson put his wallet containing $80 on a bush when he started to mow a meadow. When he returned, the wallet was gone. A friend suggested the possible culprit. Henderson killed the calf and found his $80, only slightly chewed.

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennett Cerf

One of New York's favorite columnists is Louis Sobol. Sobol is the man who discovered that a Ubangi is the only human on earth who can seal a letter with a kiss —after it's in the mailbox.

The young daughter of one of his newspaper pals came home from Sunday school with an illustrated card in her hand. "What have you got there, honey?" asked her father. "Nothing much," said the little girl. "Just an ad about heaven."

A star reporter, when Louis was still an office boy in short pants, was assigned to cover the last days of the railroad magnate, W. J. Harriman. The press had quarters in an exclusive hotel in nearby Tuxedo.

After the millionaire had passed away, the newsman turned in his expense account. It was a whopper. The managing editor studied it grimly, and commented, "If this is Mr. Harriman's will you're showing me, it's worth a story on its own."

Even more important than octane rating

FOR PEAK MOTOR PERFORMANCE AND ECONOMY...

MARATHON GASOLINE IS SEASONIZED...

Now power-balanced For FALL

Sure its octane rating is tops. But even more important (according to automotive engineers) is the power-balance you get in every gallon of Marathon Seasonized Gasoline. STARTING POWER from light components, PICK-UP POWER from medium components, RUNNING POWER from heavy components... all in the scientifically correct balance for Fall driving temperatures. Fill up with Marathon Seasonized today... the gasoline that gives you not only power but the right kinds of power in perfect seasonal balance. Step out... surge ahead smoothly, economically, with Marathon Seasonized Gasoline.

Look for the new season marker at the nozzle. It's your assurance of...

★ Most miles per gallon ★ Fastest starting under all conditions
★ Swiftest pick-up in every speed range ★ Smoothest engine performance at all speeds ★ Rugged, responsive power
★ Added protection against knocking
★ Extra protection against wear

MARATHON GASOLINE IS A SEASON-BALANCED BLEND OF LIGHT, MEDIUM AND HEAVY GASOLINES

LIGHT GASOLINE vaporizes fast for quick starts. It's the "paper" that lights the fire.

MEDIUM GASOLINE accelerates the warm-up. It's the "kindling."

HEAVY GASOLINE catches last, produces most of the power. It's the "coal."

You need all three gasolines blended in the right refinery balance for best all-'round performance. You're sure of "right balance" with Marathon Seasonized gasoline, correctly rebalanced for every season of the year.

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK — The United States now stands commited to an article on Hitlerism which, to Americans in our normal frame of mind, is a monstrosity. Adopted in our domestic system of justice, it would subject to the death penalty any person found guilty of thinking criminal thoughts. In the people's courts of Nazi Germany, primarily for the purpose of persecuting Jews, provision was made that acts not specifically foreseen and forbidden by law should be regarded as crimes nevertheless and that the courts might fit the punishment to these crimes.

In the cases of the Nazi war criminals now sentenced to death or long-imprisonment, the United States has gone even further. Not only are the accused condemned for acts which were not forbidden by any law when they were committed and are not forbidden by law even now, but the court was composed of those who brought the complaints. The aggrieved parties made the charges, conducted the prosecution, made the decision and imposed the sentences.

The satisfaction that will be enjoyed when the executions are over will vary in individuals but, actually, the value of the killings as a warning to war-makers of the future will be nil. Hitler was not afraid to die and seems to have expected to die if he failed. For all his faults, Roosevelt had no fear of death and Harry Hopkins apparently met death a little early rather than live a little longer under the restrictions of a doctor. Men who lead nations into war and in war usually believe in the justice of their causes, as Stalin may have when he attacked Finland without the slightest provocation, as Mr. Roosevelt himself, agreed.

Few Americans have had the composure to consider seriously the meaning of this commitment of our government before the world, in cooperation with a dictatorial government, Russia's, whose chiefs, by the same standards, should have been put on trial beside Goering and the rest of the Nazis. The immensity and confusion of events during and since the war have been too great for popular understanding.

* * *

Even scholars and practical experts in the special fields of history, law, politics, and economics have been unable to keep up.

But we do know that Americans have always believed that no punishment should be inflicted for any act not forbidden by written law at the time of its commission. Our constitution specifically protects us against such jeopardy and damage, including the death penalty. Our enjoyment of this security is subconscious, but it is not hard to imagine the terror and anarchy that would seize us if, today, from this minute on, we were to realize that we should now be subject to the principle that the United States adopted at Nuernburg.

Asked how we could expect to de-Hitlerize the Germans if in our most spectacular act of conversion to the beautiful system of "democracy," we resorted to the horrible expedient of improvising law retroactively, as Hitler did.

How can the United States approve that principle in international issues and continue to maintain the opposite position in our domestic justice?

The confusion and contradictions here defy reason and intelligence.

Othman — On Anything

WASHINGTON— (UP) —Ten simoleons of the firm's cash I have paid out today for a green suede-covered copy of Mrs. Carolyn Hagner Shaw's 1947 Washington social list.

There are 800 society leaders in this book, including a smear of counts and countesses, and anybody who is anybody in our town associates with nobody else. Othman, equipped though he is with a long-tail coat and an appetite for free champaign, again is out in the cold. Not listed. Doomed to associate for another full year with nobodies.

I am studying Mrs. Shaw's book anyhow, so that if by some mischance I bump into Prince and Princess Pignatelli di Montecalvo or even the Honorable Harold L. and Mrs. Ickes, I'll know how to act.

* * *

The publisher covers every possibility. Sometimes capital cocktail parties get rough; Mrs. Shaw lists the phone number of the police, National 3313. If an ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary sets fire to my house, I'll merely call the fire department, Hobart 1616.

* * *

Invaluable, this volume is. It even contains the phone numbers of all the hospitals, including St. Elizabeth's, an institution devoted to mental cases. Mrs. Shaw lists the home addresses of all the society leaders, until she gets to the T's. Then she bogs down.

She has a Truman, Harry S., with Mrs. and Miss Mary Margaret, phone number National 1414, living at the White House. No street number. 'Smatter, Sis?

The trouble with including politicians in an annual social list is that they don't stay put. This results in errors. How was Mrs. Shaw to know that Henry Wallace would be fired out of the cabinet?

Her book adds, incidentally, that Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. William O. Douglas live on Eastern avenue in Silver Springs, Md. Haw! The judge was evicted a couple of weeks ago. A new street is being cut through what used to be his parlor.

Publisher Shaw says that you can't expect to have much fun at your own dinner parties. As she puts it: "It is well to remember that personal friendships do not count in official circles."

She is wonderful. So's her book. See me when you are in a social jam. I'll lend you a copy.

New Warrant Halts Release

Lester McClelland, 195 West Fourth street, remained in city jail today because Police Chief Meade K. Bates obtained a new warrant for him.

McClelland, held on a West Virginia warrant charging non-support and abandonment of his wife, Ethel, sought release yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus. He contended that he was held illegally by Chief Bates since the foreign warrant had no authority in Ohio.

But before the habeas corpus hearing before Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch began, Chief Bates obtained a Richland county warrant charging McClelland with being a fugitive from justice, a charge under which McClelland can be held for 30 days, or until extradition proceedings to return the man to West Virginia can be completed. On this showing, Judge Kalbfleisch denied the writ.

MISS STERKEL INJURED AS CAR HITS TREE

Manager of Oil Firm Badly Hurt in Crash Today Near Her Home.

Miss Justine C. Sterkel, of 14 Sturges avenue, manager of the Independent Oil company, was believed seriously injured today when her car got out of control, sped across Sturges avenue in front of her home and crashed into a tree on the old Weaver property.

She was reported unconscious at General hospital following the accident. Extent of her injuries wasn't determined immediately. Members of her family said she was pinned under the cowl of her car when it struck the tree. It was necessary to remove the seat of the car to free her.

She was reported to have been leaving the driveway of her home when the car got out of control.

2 Others Hurt.

Two other persons were injured in pedestrian accidents in the city yesterday. They were Mrs. Leona Wright Wachtel, 54, of 50 South Adams street, and Dorothea Donna Hendrick, 8, of 411 Tremont street, both in General hospital.

Mrs. Wachtel was injured when she walked in front of a car driven by Jacob Buzzard, 201 South Diamond street, at North Diamond and East Third streets yesterday afternoon, police said. She suffered shock and bruises.

The Hedrick girl was injured, police said, when she dashed from the curb into the path of a car driven by Thomas J. McLain, 161 West Sixth stret, yesterday afternoon at Tremont and Reed streets.

She suffered a rib fracture and multiple bruises. She was reported in fair condition at the hospital today.

Another child, Douglas Hiser, 4, of 188 South Diamond street, was knocked to the pavement at South Diamond and Flint streets last night when he ran between parked cars into the path of a car driven by Glenn G. Heston, 494 Beethoven street. The boy was unhurt, police said.

SIMPSON NOW REPORTED DEAD

Mansfield Flier Lost in Bombing Attack Over Italy.

First Lt. William Y. Simpson, 22, missing in action since January, 1945, following a bombing attack on an Italian target, today was reported by the government to be buried in a military cemetery at Mirandola, Italy.

Lt. Simpson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simpson, 144 Hedges street, and his wife, Dolores, of 129 Bylmyer avenue, were notified that the bodies of the lieutenant and his crewmen had been found.

A pilot of a B-25 Mitchell bomber, Lt. Simpson was killed when his plane collided with another over the northern Italy target.

The air crash came during his 55th mission when "the air was unusually rough and winds exceptionally strong," Lt. Simpson's commanding officer wrote.

Lt. Simpson was a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and a member of the First Presbyterian church. He entered service in February, 1943.

The commander said of Lt. Simpson: "He always performed his duty in an excellent manner, never allowing fiercest enemy resistance to deter him from performing his assigned task.

"He was extremely popular with all who knew him."

The quartermaster general at Washington informed the parents that return of the bodies of the crewmen to a national cemetery in the United States is being contemplated.

Vatican Eyed Red Zone In Germany

LONDON —(INS)— The London Daily Telegraph reported today that the Vatican may attempt to obtain permission to send an emissary into the Russian zone of Germany.

In this effort, the paper added in a dispatch from Vatican City, the holy see will lean heavily upon aid of the United States representative on the allied control council at Berlin.

TWO SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY

Three Other Indicted Men Win Probations.

Two of the 24 persons indicted by the recent grand jury faced Ohio penitentiary sentences today. Three others were placed on probation for varying terms.

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, yesterday ordered William D. Richardson to serve one to 20 years. Richardson pleaded guilty to an indictment for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Ralph T. Pickens was sentenced to the penitentiary for one to seven years after pleading guilty to grand larceny. He had stolen tools valued at $37 from the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

Winners of probation were Robert C. Ray, John J. Friend and George B. Cook. Ray, convicted of stealing $140 worth of tires from the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, was placed on probation for five years.

Friend and Cook, confessed partners in the robbing of Charles E. Ticknor of a wrist watch and other property valued at $67, were placed on probation for four years.

THIEF TAKES HORSE

HAMILTON—(AP)—Butler county has its first horse thief case in more than 20 years, reports Sheriff Charles B. Walke. The sheriff said Miss Alberta Seevers, an employe in the county auditor's office, had informed him that her prize-winning riding horse had been stolen from a farm south of the city.

Sweden's Fine, But Can't Touch U.S., Hedeen Says

By GEORGE SATTLER

Sweden is a beautiful country filled with picturesque lakes, tall timber, thick juicy steaks and smorgasbords, but for a place to live, Elmer Hedeen, 560 Overlook road, will take Mansfield any time.

Hedeen recently returned from a visit to his native Sweden, which he left as a lad of 17 to make his fortune in the United States. Yesterday he told his story to the Kiwanis club.

"I'm glad to be back in Mansfield," Hedeen said, "because I've found my real home is here. I thought Sweden might awaken memories strong enough to keep me there, but it didn't."

However, Hedeen, who has also lived in London, England, would make Sweden his second choice if he had one.

"The things I like about Sweden are its cleanliness, the unhurried pace of everyday living, and its intelligent handling of many of its social problems," he said.

* * *

No Slums There.

"For instance, there are no slums," he went on, "and unnecessary noise is a crime. All the while I was there I did not hear an automobile horn, a train whistle, or even a bicycle bell.

"You see, Swedes feel that such 'noise makers' actually increase the number of accidents, and a low accident rate seems to affirm this point of view."

However, Hedeen says that Sweden has its share of labor troubles and industrial strife.

"Like workers here," he said "Swedish laborers are trying to find a substitute for work, when there isn't any."

ELMER HEDEEN

Sweden, like the United States, is also faced with a tight labor market. According to Hedeen, there has been a great movement of workers from rural sections to cities.

"The lure of easy money and use of labor-saving agricultural machinery seems to be the answer," he said. "At the same time it has caused an acute housing shortage in the cities."

* * *

Plenty of Food.

The food supply in Sweden, Hedeen says, is abundant.

"You can walk into a market and get a thick steak or any other kind of meat any time you want," Hedeen sighed. "You can also get all the candy or chocolate you can carry away."

Swedish industry has its share of problems though, he revealed. Besides labor troubles, an acute shortage of coal has crippled manufacturing.

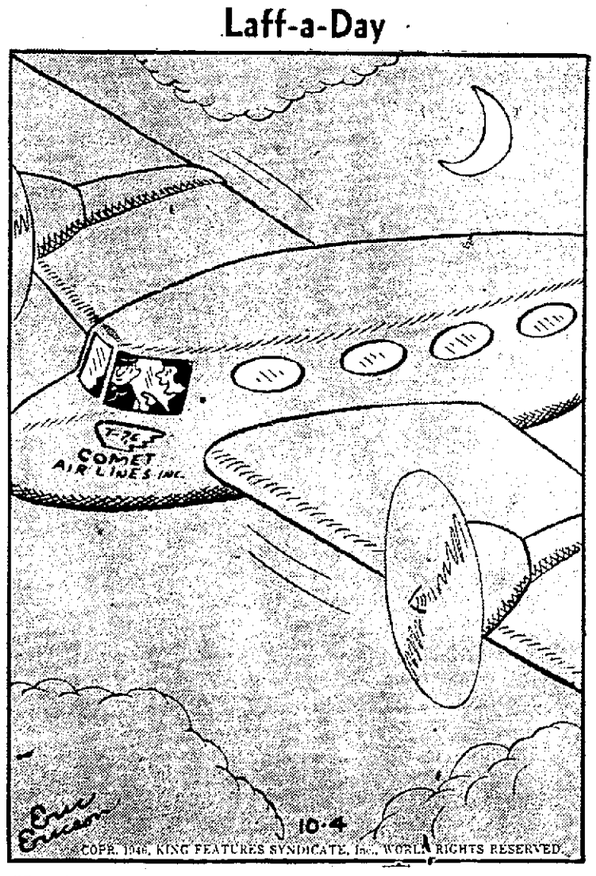
"That's the reason for Sweden's recent trade pact with Russia," he explained. "Under conditions of the pact Russia is selling Sweden Poland's coal."

With all of Sweden's abundance of food and materials, mainly lumber, the government has not been selfish, he said.

"Even with its own housing shortage, Sweden has been sending thousands of prefabricated homes to the bombed out people of England, France and Germany," he said. "Also tons of food leave Sweden's ports each day for the continent."

Hedeen, who was accompained by his wife and two children, left New York July 6 on the Gripsholm for Sweden, where they spent 27 days. The family returned to Mansfield last week.

Laff-a-Day



"Just keep rocking the plane a bit more—Junior is almost asleep!"

HAPPY BOY—

Tom Dorsey, 168 Blanch street, was a happy boy today. He had his bike back, as a result of help by Mansfield police. Tom had reported to police that he had left his bike on the St. Peter's school ground for his brother to ride home Wednesday night, but Richard walked home and forgot the bike, so someone else rode away with it. Police answered a call today from Mrs. Velma M. Owens, 254 West Third street, who complained that a bike had been left in her yard. The bike was Tommy's, and now he has it back again.

* * *

NOT QUITE AS DARK—

"Just like Pittsburgh," remarked a motorist riding through the heavy smoke screen which settled over the Mansfield industrial area early this morning.

"Oh, no," protested his companion. "We do have lights, even though you can't see them."

Chatter . . .

George Taylor telling his dinner companions of the antics of his children . . . Other teachers at Insurance board's dinner for school safety supervisors casting longing eyes along municipal airport's landing strips as they give voice to their desires for airplane rides.

OPEN DRIVE FOR YWCA MEMBERS

60 Workers Start Campaign to Build Organization.

Working toward a goal of widespread interest in the YWCA instead of a specific number of new members, some 60 volunteer workers set off the annual membership campaign last night with a dinner meeting at the 'Y.'

"We've set no goal in numbers for the drive, because our real goal is to interest all women and girls in 'Y' work," Mrs. Herbert Carter, membership drive chairman, said.

The drive will continue through Oct. 12.

Chief speaker at the after-dinner session was Miss Willetta Lewis, executive secretary, who outlined the ideals of 'Y' work in a talk entiled "The Meaning of Membership."

"Our goal is to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing, in our common life, those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians," Miss Lewis said.

The present membership of the YWCA is 1,400 women and girls from Mansfield and the immediate vicinity.

Mrs. Robert Brooks, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Chapin, led the campaign songs. Mrs. Richard Uhl, served as chairman of the dinner committee, assisted by Mrs. Roger Gray, Mrs. Paul Bush, Miss Regina Finney and Miss Janice McCartney.

Seek to Speed OK Of Hospital Plans

County Commissioners John W. Selby and C. L. Shoup today were reported in Columbus where they hoped to learn why Richland county's plans for a new $300,000 tuberculosis sanatorium have not been approved by the state department of health.

Plans for the sanatorium have been reported in the hands of the state department of health for several weeks. They were completed and submitted to the commissioners last Aug. 7.

TEACHERS WIN BOOST

CAMBRIDGE — (AP) — Cambridge school teachers have been voted a 14 percent salary increase, retroactive to Sept. 3, by the board of education. The teachers called off a threatened strike for more pay prior to opening of the fall term Sept. 3 when the board agreed to consider wage boosts.

Amima Presents Trophy Tonight

Amima club of Mansfield will hold its presentation dinner at 6:30 p. m. today in the Mansfield-Leland hotel, instead of as originally announced, P. A. English, secretary, said today.

Louis Bromfield, noted author, will be guest speaker and will present a trophy to J. R. Harrington, as the Amima personality of the year. The dinner celebrates the club's 25th anniversary.

REVISE PLANS AT MEETING IN COLUMBUS

Engineers Checking on Bids; Award Expected to Be Made Next Week.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn announced today a revision in plans for letting of the contract for construction of the Clear Fork reservoir dam.

The mayor said the change in plans resulted from a meeting yesterday with engineers of the Jennings-Lawrence company of Columbus.

"We will probably let the contract early next week," Vaughn said. He originally had hoped it would be possible to let the contract today.

"Engineers of the Jennings-Lawrence company are checking several things to make sure that everything is in order. They should be finished so we can proceed early next week," the mayor explained.

Visits Engineers.

Mayor Vaughn, Service-Safety Director W. W. Enlow and City Solicitor Leslie K. Wagner visited the engineeering company's offices in Columbus yesterday.

The city has received two bids, each for more than $400,000, for construction of the dam. Roger J. Au offered to build the dam for $424,000 and John Hill for $464,000.

Since the bids exceeded estimates by about $124,000, council Monday night raised from $800,000 to $1,000,000 the amount authorized for use in the Clear Fork water supply project. The extra $200,000 will be needed, Consulting Engineer Harry Smith said, to pay for the project's filtration plant and to provide the city with additional water until the reservoir is opened, possibly two years hence.

YOUTHFUL DAD FACES CHARGE

Teen-Agers Are Convicted of Traffic Violations.

A 20-year-old Shelby father was called for trial this afternoon in juvenile court on a charge of non-support. Two teen-age youths were convicted in that court on traffic charges.

Pleading guilty to driving without an operator's license, Richard H. White, 17, of Akron, was fined $5 but the fine was suspended on condition he obtain a license and report back to Juvenile Officer Ralph Carroll.

Confessing to a similar charge, Nicholas B. Weiland, 17, of Cleveland, lost his right to drive or to apply for a license for 90 days. He told the court he soon would be inducted into the navy.

Grover Cleveland Baldridge, 20, of Shelby, was called for trial at 1:30 p. m. on a charge of non-support of his 10-month old son. Lottie Sweeney of Shelby filed the complaint.

ATTACK SHIFTS

Chinese Battle in Northern Hopei Province.

NANKING —(INS)— Reports to Nanking said today that the focal point of the Chinese civil war had shifted to northern Hopei province.

On the Hopei front Chinese communist troops weree reported to have gained 80 miles in a counter-offensive along the Peiping-Hankow railway.

The communists were said to have captured the towns of Sushui and Wangpu after a series of attacks.

Mrs. Adams Dies In Texas

Mrs. Epsie Elizabeth Adams, 73, died unexpectedly early today at Houston, Texas, while on a visit with relatives, according to word received here.

Born Oct. 22, 1872, Mrs. Adams lived many years in Mansfield and was a member of the Park Avenue Baptist church. She had gone to Texas several weeks ago to spend a month with sons and other relatives there.

Surviving are five sons, Emmett E., of Ashland, R. D.; David C., of Shiloh, Marvin of Galveston, Texas, and Richard and Cooper of Houston; five daughters, Mrs. Lula Crowl, Tiro, Mrs. Kathlene Peifer, Shelby, Mrs. Mildred Sackman and Mrs. Alice Young of Mansfield; one step-daughter, Mrs. Nancy Narvell, San Angelo, Texas; one sister, Mrs. Frederick Wright, Houston; three brothers, Barton Bryan, William and Clayton, all of Houston; a foster son, Thomas Crawford of Ontario and 14 grandchildren.

The body will be brought to the Finefrock funeral home here. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

TEXAS, IRISH PUSH ARMY; BUCKEYES TO DRAW 90,000

By FRED THARP
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

From deep in the Texas cow country and from under a golden dome in South Bend, Indiana come rumblings that Army's domination of the nation's collegiate football picture may be at an end.

The eyes of Texas—and of the whole country are focused on the Longhorns of Dana Bible and the Irish of Coach Frank Leahy are coming in for their share of attention as the big gridiron machines roll into their third week of frenzied activity.

The Texas Longhorns hardly raised a cloud of dust in stampeding past Missouri, 42 to 0, and Colorado, 76 to 0, but they can get a lot more recognition this week by taking a convincing victory over Oklahoma A. & M. The Aggies are still one of the major grid powers, even though they were tied by an inspired Arkansas eleven, 21 to 21, last week.

Notre Dame surprised with a somewhat easy, 26-6, win over Illinois, touted as the best in the Western Conference, and the Irish should have little trouble with Pittsburgh Saturday. The Panthers got knocked galley-west by the Illini, 33-7, but bounced back to take West Virginia, 33-7, last Saturday.

Army, Alabama and UCLA still have quote a lot of say in the national rankings although the Crimson Tide had quite a time before downing Tulane, 7-6, last week. Alabama's Rose Bowl champions meet South Carolina and UCLA, 50-7 victor over Oregon State, collides with Washington at Seattle Saturday.

The Kaydets with the No. 1—Doc Blanchard—of their one-two punch sitting on the bench dropped Oklahoma, 21-7, for the West Pointer's 21st straight triumph. Army takes on Cornell at Michie stadium on the banks of the Hudson tomorrow.

The day's best intersectional battle sends the Ohio State Buckeyes against Southern California before an expected crowd of 90,000 on the West Coast. Paul Bixler's Bucks were unimpressive in tying Missouri, 13-13, while S. C. had trouble easing by Washington State, 13-7, last week.

Even with the help of a slightly used crystal ball, last week's prognostications were not exactly top-hole. Of forty picks, 28 teams won, seven lost and five tied. Seasonal standing: 54 wins, nine losses, five ties.

So for this scribe's third jaunt into the business of sawing off the limb after one has crawled to the end of same, we have:

Texas-Oklahoma A. & M.—Those cowpunchers figure to lasso and hog-tie the Aggies who have been unbeaten in 21 ball games. TEXAS.

Ohio State-Southern California—Maybe its Buckeye state loyalty but the ouija board says Bix and the boys will clarify their position and erase last week's horrible mistake. OHIO STATE.

Notre Dame-Pittsburgh—It may be a little too cool out for track meets but the South Bend gang haven't heard about it, being three deep and all that. NOTRE DAME.

Minnesota-Indiana—This job of defending the Western Conference championship seems a little too much for the Hoosier eleven and Bernie Bierman's boys are up. MINNESOTA.

Michigan-Iowa—This one by a flip of the coin. MICHIGAN.

Tyger Squad Leaves for Portsmouth

30 FOOTBALLERS MAKE TRIP TO TROJAN TOWN

Thirty Mansfield Tyger footballers left this morning for their date with destiny in the form of the Portsmouth Trojans tonight on the banks of the Ohio river.

Coach Paul Snyder's squad left Senior high at 8:20 a. m. today by bus and plan to stop in Circleville for dinner at 11 o'clock. The Bengals are scheduled to arrive in Portsmouth at 1 p. m. and will rest for three hours. After a four o'clock evening meal Snyder and Jimmy Lymper, backfield coach, will tape the Tyger gridders ankles.

Game time is 8 p. m.

The Tygers will stay overnight at the LaSalle hotel in Portsmouth and return to Mansfield tomorrow.

Tonight's game is ranked as the top schoolboy gridiron clash on the weekend card. Portsmouth currently holds down third place in the INS scholastic poll with the Tygers in sixth position. Each eleven has won three games this season.

Mansfield sent Portsmouth home in 1945 on the short end of a 19-6 count and Coach Augie Morningstar has his lads primed for the invading Bengals.

Walkie-talkies will be used for the first time at tonight's game. Lymper will use one of the handy gadgets to communicate with the bench from the press box. Sgt. Rollie Hilborn, Mansfield recruiting station, is making the trip to operate the w-t's.

Assistant coaches Fred Staub, Harry Mehock and Norm Henline will go to Lima tonight to scout Springfield against Lima Central. Vern Hoffman and Bob Kennedy will scout the Massillon-Steubenville contest.

The traveling squad includes:

Ends, Harold Amsbaugh, Al Henke, Jim Sinerson, Dick Flockencier, Tom Emerson, Bernard Weaver.

Tackles, Dave Boals, Bob Rondy, Bob Marth, Ray Beard, Dick Logan.

Guards, Dick Gross, Dave Richards, Bruno Mollica, Al Paetsch, Leroy Douville.

Centers, Dave Wentz, Tom McCullough, John McCarrick.

Backs, Ollie Cline, Ross Frisbee, Kenny Horvath, Ralph Majors, Bill McKee, Harry Osbun, Nick Gagich, Burt Lindsay, Allen Sowash, Joe Miller, Paul Ferguson.

Managers, Jim Heston, Bob Richards.

Fight Tickets On Sale Now

Tickets for next Wednesday's all-star boxing card are now on sale at City News, Park Avenue News, Sandy Maxwell's, Dick Jones' club and East Side Nite club.

Harry Hart, 135-Delaware ace, meets Nate Huskey, former California Golden Gloves champion, in the ten-round main event. Hart fought in Mansfield this summer, kayoing Tony Rios of Mexico in the ninth heat.

It will be Husky's first appearance here. He has not been defeated since his discharge from the service 10 months ago.

Dick Alexander, the clever Mansfield 145-pounder, gets his first chance over the long route when he collides with Woody Loucen of Columbus in the ten-round semi-windup. Alexander has won five straight bouts since turning pro.

Promoters Rex Reese and Sam Miller have signed the following officials: Dick Jones and Bill Harry, referees; Sam Fox, timer and James Brownscombe, announcer.

Tyger Harriers Top Newark, 26-31

Mansfield Tyger cross-country team defeated Newark yesterday afternoon 26 to 31, at Coolridge golf course.

Joe Schoop was first for the Bengals with the time of 10 minutes and 55 seconds. Dick Neuman of Newark was second and Pete Vogt, Mansfield, placed third. Don Idle of Newark finished fourth and Harold Leppert came in fifth for Mansfield. Newark took sixth and seventh and Jim Schuler and Rudy Sheets were eighth and ninth for the Mehock men. Newark took tenth.

Leppert and Vogt were on the team last year. The Tygers face Ashland this afternoon on the Coolridge course at 4 o'clock.

Tilt to Clarify NO Loop Lead

SHELBY—The Shelby Whippets will be seeking their 23rd win over Bucyrus since 1902 when they travel to the Crawford county school's field Friday night for a Northern Ohio league game that will determine which of the two teams will remain in the lead for the league's grid championship.

Since the grid rivalry was started between the two schools, the Whippets have won 22 games; tied one and lost only 13.

Shelby and Bucyrus are tied for the league lead with two victories and no losses.

More than 3,000 Shelby rooters are expected to make the trip to Bucyrus where one of the largest crowds in the history of that school is expected to overfill the grid stadium.

Both schools lost opening games to non-league opponents. The Whippets have been defeated by New Philadelphia, 21 to 7, while Bucyrus lost to Tiffin Columbian.

Ashland Host To Polar Bears

ASHLAND — Ashland college football team will be after its first 1946 gridiron victory tonight in the home opener against Ohio Northern.

Coach George Donges put the Eagles through tough practice sessions this week to correct the mistakes Ashland showed in its 7 to 0 defeat at Heidelberg last week. The Polar Bears defeated one of Rio Grande's strongest teams 13 to 6 in the opener, and Donges said that Northern is loaded with big experienced players.

Kenny Funk, all-Ohio back, and Skip Hawkins have been plagued with the flu and might not start tonight. Bob Puglisi, halfback, who dislocated his shoulder in the Heidelberg game will probably start.

Cardinals Make Series With Easy 8-4 Triumph

By JACK HAND

ENROUTE TO ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Eddie Dyer's St. Louis Cardinals are counting on the momentum of two playoff victories over the Brooklyn Dodgers to send them winging into the world series with the Boston Red Sox Sunday as very healthy 7 to 20 underdogs.

Instead of a bedraggled flock of Redbirds, drooping after a 156-game schedule that included the first tie in major league history, the revised National league champs remain completely unawed by the gentlemen from Boston.

Too much occupied by their own struggle with Brooklyn to pay much attention to the Sox, the Cardinals believe they have the lefthanded pitching.

With the chips down in a short series, the Cardinals proved against Brooklyn they can play like the team most of the experts picked last spring to breeze to the pennant.

After Howie Pollet won the playoff opener in St. Louis Tuesday, Murry Dickson, a converted reliefer, showed the Brooks something yesterday in the final 8-4 victory at Ebbets field.

From the first inning when Brooklyn made two hits count for an early run, until the ninth when they drove him to cover in a rousing three-run uprising, Dickson held the home club without a smell of a hit, allowing only one ball to be hit to the outfield.

Up to the ninth inning, the Dodgers didn't look as though they belonged on the same field with the Cards.

If Pollet feels that his strained side won't bother his control, he will be the opening game pitcher. If there is any doubt about the matter, Dyer will go with Brecheen, one of the best "money" pitchers in the game. He is certain to start a lefthander despite Dickson's early success yesterday.

The Cards figure they probably will face Tex Hughson in the first game, a welcome relief from lefthanders as tough as Tex may turn out to be

CARDINALS WIN PENNANT: Left fielder Ervin Dusak of the St. Louis Cardinals slides into third base beating the throw (note ball at upper right) after his second inning triple. Terry Moore's sacrifice fly drove Dusak in to tie the Dodgers 1-1. The Cards won, 8 to 4.

Leo the Lip Happy With Bums; Says, 'Dodgers Real Champs'

NEW YORK—(INS)—Leo Durocher says he wants to be manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers 'till I die."

Leo took off today by plane for St Louis to watch the Cardinals against the Boston Red Sox, and as defiant in the cause of the Red Sox as he had ever been in the lost cause of the Dodgers Leo picks the Cards to whip the American league entry But he pauses gently to mention that "my Dodgers were real champions"

"And look here. I must talk today about my fellows I never expected them to get as far as they did. But, they did it. Guys with guts. Guys I respect. Fellows I like a lot I'll see them all in Havana next spring and we'll pick a winner out of the mob

"Larry McPhail, of the Yankees here in New York, is probably my greatest friend. I know he wants me to manage the Yankees. But, although that would be a great job and MacPhail was one of the greatest bosses I ever knew, Mr. Rickey can have me as manager of the Dodgers until I die. And it will be a pleasure to work the rest of my life for Mr. Rickey."

Durocher, who made $65,000 for his magic, will now become a radio personality.

He's the greatest thing in radio since Marconi.

Mansfield Sophs Edge Sandusky

SANDUSKY—Mansfield sophomores made a fourth quarter touchdown drive to defeat the Sandusky reserves 7 to 0, here yesterday afternoon

The Blue Streak juniors could not hold up under the lighter, speedier Bengals With four minutes playing time left, Mansfield started the drive from the 50-yard stripe After a series of plays, Joe Letizia plunged through center from the Sandusky three to score John Corcoran converted the extra point.

Paul Ferguson, signal caller who was to have made the trip to Portsmouth today with the Tygers, was injured and remained home.

Rams Play Third Road Encounter

Mansfield Madison football team plays its third straight road game tonight at Rittman in another Northeastern Buckeye league contest.

Both aggregations will be after their first league victory and should give the fans plenty of heads-up football The Rams are in good physical condition and will rely on speed to off-set the heavier Rittman eleven.

Coach Jeff DeHaven has been putting his squad through defensive drills and has been brushing up on the Rams down field blocking. The Rams mentor put his charges through a light work-out yesterday afternoon

Ivan Gets Rough; Ali Wins Match

Ali Ahba, the Turk terror, was given the decision in the main go of the weekly wrestling show at the Armory last night after Referee Frank Grazl had to disqualify Ivan Rasputin for "ruffin' the ref"

Ahba pinned the mad-Russian in the first fall, and then Rasputin took his spite out on Grazl and threw him from one side of the ring to the other. After the fourth throw Grazl finally had to disqualify the Russian bearded man and give the nod to the guy with the handle-bar mustache.

In the preliminary Stocky Knielson, the Tennessee ruffian, proved too much for Ace Abbott and pinned the singing cowboy in two falls in 35 minutes.

Indiana university's 1946 starting backfield averages 186 pounds.
